Smoked Whitefish Blamed; Plants Are Shut In 2 States

DETROIT (AP) — Government investigators hunted with test tubes today for the source or sources of poisoned smoked whitefish blamed for four deaths in two states.

A Michigan producer of smoked whitefish held off on further operation after ordering the destruction of all its distributed stock.

Two deaths from deadly botulism Monday in Tennessee — following by six days two similar deaths in Michigan — led to the precautions.

Eight other persons were ill in Tennessee, one critically. At least seven of the victims had eaten smoked whitefish, medical authorities said.

The Federal Food and Drug Administration at Washington ordered tests of Michigan whitefish samples at its laboratories in Detroit.

At the Lake Michigan port of Grand Haven, the firm of H. J. Dornbos & Bros., which has produced smoked whitefish for 70-odd years, suspended work pending results of the inquiry.

Three national food store chains —A&P, National Food, and Kroger—ordered the product removed from shelves of their stores.

Harold Dornbos, president of the Michigan fisheries company, said he closed his plant voluntarily before the imposition of an embargo on his inventory by the Michigan State Department of Agriculture.

"What a horrible, horrible thing. We are doing everything that can be done," Dornbos said.

Madame Nhu Arrives For Visit In U.S.

NEW YORK — Mrs. Ngo Dinh Nhu, South Viet Nam's fiery first lady, flew into New York tonight on a three-week American speaking tour. Her visit was opposed on the floor of the Senate in advance.

"I have come here to see you, to try to understand why we can't get along better," she said as she stepped off an Atlantic plane at Idlewild Airport. "I hope at the end of my stay to know you better."

Rep. Hays Questions Visit By Mme. Nhu

Rep. Wayne L. Hays would like to know how Mme. Ngo Dinh Nhu ever got clearance to visit America.

The 18th District congressman told the Ohio Fraternal Congress in Cleveland Monday night he "was going to try to find an answer to that question."

"Who gave her the visa so she could come to this country and peddle her propaganda?" the Flushing Democrat asked sharply, declaring "she was in Paris spending some of our hard-earned money (The U. S. allots a large sum to Viet Nam) for a wardrobe for herself."

"If I'm power hungry, I would not have confidence of the Viet Nam government ... I would betray the Viet Nam government if I were power hungry," she said.

During her speech — making trip here, Mrs. Nhu is prepared to defend her family's administration of Viet Nam, where Buddhists have charged they are victims of a ruthless crackdown by the government.

Temperature To Dip Into Autumn Ranges

Temperatures were due to return more to the autumn range today in the wake of summer-like readings in the mid-80's Monday. But there was no rain in sight.

The Ohio weatherman said today's range will be 65 to 69 degrees and tonight's 40 to 45. The downtown had a mild 54 at 6 p.m. today.

By contrast, Montgomery Island Dam at Olmstead had an 82 high yesterday afternoon and the reading at noon today was 62.

Wednesday will be pleasant with sunny skies and mild temperatures.

Cost 20 Lives In Past Week

Betancourt Cites Castro For Venezuelan Violence

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP) — President Romulo Betancourt blamed Fidel Castro Monday night for the increase in anti-government violence in Venezuela that has cost at least 20 lives in the past week.

In a nationwide broadcast, Betancourt appealed for public support of the police and military campaign to crush the terrorists.

Betancourt said Communists and fellow travelers are waging the campaign of terrorism to block Venezuela's national elections scheduled for Dec. 1 but he said control of the government is even more firmly in his hands than when he assumed office four years ago.

There was no abatement in the terrorism that has promoted the government to move paratroopers and other military units into Caracas. Three more persons died in street battles Monday night.

Elsewhere in Latin America: — The new military regime in Honduras set up machine guns in the central plaza of Tegucigalpa, the capital, after it received reports of plans for anti-government demonstrations by students.

A junta headed by Col. Oswaldo Lopez Arrelano ousted the elected government of President Ramon Villeda Morales last Thursday.

— In the Dominican Republic, where the elected government was also deposed in a coup, the military government ordered a state of siege after university students battled police in Santo Domingo, the capital. The students attempted to march on the presidential palace to protest the ouster of President Juan D. Bosch. Police fired machine guns hurled tear gas and the students retaliated with stones. About 50 students were arrested.

— In Brazil, a dispute between workers and guards at a big steel mill resulted in the death of six workmen when police fired on them. The outburst occurred at Acesitas, 200 miles north of Rio de Janeiro. President Goulart meanwhile withdrew his request to Congress for a 30-day state of siege to keep order. He said extreme measures were no longer necessary, but most observers believed he backed down because Congress was going to deny him most of the emergency powers he asked for.

Widow Given Post

Mary E. Stewart Appointed Clerk

The widow of Donald G. Stewart, Hancock County clerk for 30 years until his death last Tuesday, was appointed to the Courthouse vacancy Monday by county commissioners.

Mrs. Mary E. Stewart of Pughtown, a native of East Liverpool and a graduate of ELHS, was administered the oath as county clerk at a meeting of commissioners yesterday in New Cumberland.

SHE will serve until the general election in November 1964, as her husband had been elected to a new six-year term last year and had five years remaining.

The oath was administered by Miss Neva Gibson, a Courthouse clerk. Mrs. Stewart immediately named Miss Gibson and Mrs. DeLores Foreman to continue serving as deputy clerks.

Mrs. Stewart has been employed in the Courthouse since 1937, her official title secretary to County Court.

She attended Steubenville Business College and West Liberty State College and the Beaver Conservatory of Music in Beaver.

IN OTHER action, commissioners changed the name of one county organization and made two appointments to the staff of Sheriff Joseph H. Manypenny.

A resolution was adopted to change the name of the Hancock County Planning and Development Commission to merely the Hancock County Planning Commission.

The planning and development commission has been in effect over a year, but it was decided that the word "development" should be dropped from the name in order to become eligible for additional state and federal funds.

Miss Callie Tsapis, a Chester attorney and member of the group recommended the change and also that a County Development Authority of the same membership but functioning as a separate body be organized.

MRS. MARY M. Weekley of New Cumberland and Mrs. Louise Staley of Newell were named to the sheriff's staff.

Previously a part-time employee in the tax collection office, Mrs. Weekley was named a full-time employee to fill a vacancy created by the resignation of Miss Diane Huff of Pughtown. Mrs. Weekley will receive $250 monthly.

Mrs. Staley was reappointed as a crossing guard for the Newell Jefferson School at a salary of $70 monthly.

Miss Rose A. Benedetto of Weirton was named secretary to Prosecuting Atty. Floyd R. Tarr, effective Nov. 1.

PERMISSION was granted N. T. Holbrook, superintendent of Tomlinson Run State Park, to seek bids for installation of a furnace in a building where Civil Defense equipment is stored.

The applications of Mrs. Betty Jacobs of Chester and Emmanuel Loucas of Weirton as notaries public were approved. William C. Graham of Chester, president.

Following Long Debate

Anti-Strikebreaker Law Wins Council's Approval

Despite a split vote on the last motion, Council unexpectedly gave final approval Monday night to a controversial ordinance that, in effect, outlaws recruiting of strikebreakers by a third party in case of a work stoppage resulting from a labor strike or lockout.

The action came at the end of a long debate among labor and management spokesmen in the audience and a series of statements from the councilmen explaining their positions.

THE ORDINANCE had been given first reading at the meeting Sept. 16. Final passage had been blocked at that time for lack of enough votes to suspend the rules.

Enactment was possible last night because proponents mustered the necessary six votes for suspension of rules, although the councilmen split 4-3 on a motion that followed for final passage. Only four votes were required for the final motion and President Charles N. Edwards ruled the ordinance had been passed.

All seven members cast favorable votes when the ordinance was placed on the floor for the second reading. After it had been read by Clerk Lawrence Zolinger, Councilman Floyd Murray moved for immediate passage, seconded by Councilman Frank Duffy.

The motion squeaked through 6-1, with Councilman S. James Welch casting the only dissent. In addition to Murray and Duffy, it was supported by Councilmen Kenneth C. Berg, Edward Massey, Robert W. Sample Jr. and George E. Willshaw.

IMMEDIATELY, Murray—seconded by Duffy—moved for final passage. The motion was supported by Murray, Duffy, Berg and Massey, with Welch, Sample and Willshaw dissenting.

Before the final vote was taken, Welch explained that he intended to vote against immediate enactment. However, he said, the action did not mean he necessarily opposed the ordinance. He said he wanted further time to study an ordinance proposed at Erie to set up a labor-management council for settlement of disputes.

Murray, Berg, Welch, Massey, Willshaw and Duffy voted for first reading of the ordinance in September, but Willshaw opposed final passage at that time. That meant the legislation was held over until last night, as only six members were present. Sample was absent at the session Sept. 16.

THE ORDINANCE makes it illegal for a person, firm or corporation "who is not a party to nor directly involved in an authorized labor strike or lockout to recruit any person or persons for employment ... when the

Area Boards Set Up Parley On Late Fund

County Aides To Be Invited To Explain Tardy Tax Sharing

The Board of Education decided Monday night to invite County Auditor Kenneth Bell and County Treasurer Vincent C. Judge to attend a joint meeting with members of the Wellsville and Beaver Local school boards to explain the reasons for delay in allotting funds to school districts.

The board approved the motion by Harry D. McConville after a lengthy discussion in which James Lowe, president, complained the board is having "to pay for inefficiency."

The action was taken after the board approved a resolution authorizing Miss Kathryn Liebschner, clerk-treasurer, to borrow funds to meet payrolls.

Miss Liebschner reported the board has borrowed $624,000 so far this year with interest charges costing the board an additional $976.45. The board had appropriated $600 for debt service this year with the remainder having to be transferred from some other account.

During a hearing in Lisbon on the 1964 school budget, Miss Liebschner said she was told it may be Dec. 1 before the district receives any additional money from county taxes. The quarterly state foundation check is not due until Nov. 20, she added.

Miss Liebschner said she understands the real estate tax books, scheduled to close Aug. 10, still haven't been closed and collection of personal property taxes has been started, adding to the delay.

Following McConville's suggestion to invite the two officials, Lowe expressed agreement, commenting, "We are spending public money for, shall I say inefficiency."

Mrs. Nessie Dunlop, who also attended the budget hearing along with Supt. Paul H. Blair, said the officials complain they do not have enough help. In most offices, she said employees are trained in more than one task so they can aid others. However, in the Courthouse, she said, one office may be swamped with work while employees in another office are idle. "Something's wrong," she said.

Board members pointed out the tardiness has been blamed on the county reappraisal of property which delayed issuance of tax statements for the first half. The offices have been running behind since then.

2 Americans Drown Flora Slams Cuba For 5th Day; Haiti Counts 2,000 Dead

Rain, Wind Buffeting Castro Isle

No Indication To When Storm Will Dissipate, Move On

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Hurricane Flora still hovered over southeast Cuba today, its relentless rains and buffeting winds lashing the island for the fifth consecutive day.

The Weather Bureau in Miami said no storm in 75 years had battered one area for so long. Flora's winds were dropping, but there was no indication when its drenching torrents would dissipate or move on.

As the storm plunged Cuba's Communist regime into the worst economic disaster of its nearly five years in power, neighboring Haiti reported Flora had killed 2,000 to 4,000 persons and made 100,000 homeless last week.

The Cuban government reported 11 dead. Two Americans drowned at the U.S. naval base at Guantanamo. Jamaica reported nine dead, and 17 were killed on the island of Tobago by Flora last week.

Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro was reported roving his stormbattered Eastern provinces to assess the damage. Agriculture officials in Havana said half the island's crops were laid waste by Flora's winds and rain. The government put the death toll at 11.

It said also Havana's million residents would go on half rations of beef, eat half as many vegetables, and drink no coffee pending arrival of 5,000 tons of coffee beans from Brazil under an agreement with the Soviet Union.

Agrarian Reform Institute President Carlos Rodriguez did not make clear in his announcement Monday night whether the agreement with the U.S.S.R. resulted from the hurricane or was made before it hit Cuba.

The American Red Cross called Cuba's Red Cross an offer of relief supplies and workers.

Rig's Driver In 8 Deaths Faces Charge

A charge of driving left of center has been filed against a Quaker City trucker whose rig smashed two cars Wednesday at Williamsport, killing or fatally injuring a city family of three and five East Palestine — Negley area residents.

The Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon formally filed the traffic citation against Vernon Hatcher, 27, who escaped the tragedy with a hand laceration.

Evidence in the crash — the worst in area history — is to be presented to the Grand Jury as is customary in traffic fatalities, county officials have announced.

A steel coil fell from Hatcher's rig, landing on a car and crushing it to death Mrs. Judith Ann Lewis, 19, of East Palestine R.D. 1 and four passengers — Sally May, 17, and Louise Slagle, 15, of Negley, Nancy Knight, 12, and Ted Knight, 8, both of East Palestine R.D. 1.

The truck then careened onto the bridge at Williamsport, smashing head-on into a car driven by William S. White, 33, of 403 Azalea Ave., killing his mother, Mrs. Lila White, 58, and fatally injuring him and his father, William G. White, 64.

DISASTER LEFT BY FLORA. CARE, international relief agency, reported Monday that between 2,000 and 4,000 persons died in Haiti when hurricane Flora swept the Negro republic last week. CARE deputy executive director Fred Devine said Haitian Health Minister Girard Philippeaux gave him the casualty figure in a telephone conversation and said two-fifths of the land area of Haiti had been devastated. 8,746 Voters Qualified For City Balloting

Decline Of 1,477 Shown In Past Year By Election Board

East Liverpool has 8,746 voters qualified to cast ballots at the Nov. 5 general election, a decline of 1,477 in the last year, the County Election Board said today.

The official total was established when the board's staff completed compilation of the register of voters by precincts. The lists must be posted at each precinct polling place by Oct. 24, Frank R. O'Hanlon, clerk, said.

The final total was established after the staff eliminated duplications during the registration period and removed the names of voters who died in July, August and September. When registration for the general election ended on Sept. 23, the unofficial total was 8,790.

In October 1962, the city had 10,223 registered to vote, but in its annual yearend check the board eliminated 2,044 who had moved outside the city or had failed to vote, leaving a net of 8,179 on Jan. 1, O'Hanlon said.

In a mail registration campaign early in the year, a total of 314 voters were reinstated, O'Hanlon said, with only 253 registering.

Tax Receipts Hit $221,949 For 9 Months

The city income tax produced $221,949.43 in the first nine months of 1963. Tax Commissioner D.G. Wilkinson said in a written report filed with Council Monday night.

Wilkinson's report, showing collections through the close of business Sept. 30, listed a breakdown for the three principal categories of tax revenue.

Funds withheld by employers and later paid in to the tax office totaled $123,338.45, he said. Businesses contributed $31,748.72 and individuals paid $66,862.26, the report showed.

Individual reports are from persons whose earnings are not subject to withholding at the source. The list is made up principally of persons who reside in East Liverpool, but are employed in other communities. It also includes professional men such as physicians, dentists and attorneys.

Wilkinson said his next regular report to Council will cover the period through Dec. 31. However, he said he will file supplemental reports earlier if he receives a request from Council.

Council's estimate at the first of the year anticipated overall receipts of $238,000 from the tax this year, so the income through the third quarter totals just $17,000 short of the total expected for all of 1963.

The estimate anticipated $220,000.

Funds Sought To Plan Span And Freeway

Council Authorizes Loan Applications For 2 Projects

Council gave unanimous approval Monday night to legislation authorizing the administration to apply for federal loans to finance plans for two projects—a pedestrian-auto ramp on W. 9th St. and a two-mile eastward extension of the Freeway from the Newell Bridge into East End.

In both instances, the resolution clears the way for Safety-Service Director Robert Owen to file applications with the Federal Housing and Home Finance Agency. The amount that will be required for the planning work was not specified. The city would be required to repay the loans when construction begins on either project.

Council also approved unanimously an amended "consent ordinance" spelling out the city's participation in a State Highway Department project to build a ramp to tie together the two dead-end sections of W. 9th St.

Although no definite estimate is possible, Engineer George S. Bloomgren said the revised plan may save the city $1,000 to $2,000.

Hands Off The Lights, Chester Chief Warns

Keep your cotton-picking hands off those traffic lights!

That, in effect, is the warning issued today by Police Chief Clarence Lemmens of Chester, who said signal controls for lights at 1st St. and Carolina Ave. and 6th St. and Carolina Ave. have been tampered with six times in the past week or so.

The culprit opens the control box and switches off the motor. These leaves the 1st St. light completely off and the 6th St. light shining continuously in one position, causing a traffic hazard, the chief said.

Anyone found guilty of such tampering faces a stiff fine, the chief added.

This year's improvements at the Thompson Park baseball field, notably a new fence and backstop, were financed out of a $2,200 allocation of city income tax funds.

Hancock Signup Set

In Acreage Diversion

A signup period has been slated tentatively in January for Hancock County farmers interested in participating in the 1964 feed grain program, according to Carl R. Allison of the Agricultural, Stabilization and Conservation Committee in New Cumberland.

Next year's program is almost the same as the one for 1963, although it sets the upper limit of 50 per cent diversion of total feed grain base for a farm instead of 40 per cent. Also, any feed grain farmer who does divert 40 per cent or more is also eligible for the maximum payment rate per acre.

Senate Aide Quits Post; Probe Opens

WASHINGTON (AP)—The FBI has launched an investigation into the business affairs of Robert G. Baker, 36, who resigned his $19,600-a-year post as secretary to the Democratic majority in the Senate.

A Justice Department source disclosed the investigation shortly before Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield announced Baker's resignation Monday.

The inquiry apparently began with allegations in a $300,000 civil damage suit that Baker used his office to help win contracts with a government defense subcontractor for an automatic vending machine company with which he had financial dealings.

A former Senate page who came here from Pickens, S.C., Baker was named secretary of the majority eight years ago when Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson was Senate majority leader. He reputedly was a Johnson protégé.

Baker's wife is also on the government payroll, serving as records manager for the Senate Internal Security subcommittee at $11,800 a year.

There was no immediate comment from Baker.

Assistant Democratic Leader Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota who sat in at the meeting after which Baker's resignation was announced, said the Democratic majority, who had chosen him, did not request his resignation.

Francis R. Valeo, 47, administrative assistant to the majority leader, was assigned by Mansfield to take over Baker's duties. Valeo will serve as acting secretary to the majority pending action by the conference of Democratic senators.

Baker's business dealings came to light Sept. 9 in a law suit filed in U.S. District Court by Capitol Vending Inc. against Serv-U Corp., a vending firm with which the Bakers had financial dealings, and against Baker and other defendants.

The suit alleged that Baker "as secretary of the Senate majority was able to and did represent" that he was in a position to assist in securing contracts for the North American Aviation Corp.

Further, it alleged that Baker received $5,600 for securing a vending machine franchise at Melpar, Inc., a North American subcontractor. Melpar's principal plants are in the Washington area.

When the suit was filed, Baker denied that any influence was involved in behalf of Serv-U.

The Bakers hold $290,000 in promissory notes from Serv-U.

Serv-U started operations 18 months ago and has an estimated $3.5 million in sales at five California aerospace plants doing government defense work.

Carnegie Library Has 5 New Films

Five new films were among those available at the Carnegie Public Library during October.

They are "Japanese Boy—The Story of Taro," "He is Risen," "Butterfly—African Bird Life," "San Francisco" and "City Bus Driver."

A total of 23 films are available this month for a slight rental fee. They range from 10 to 27 minutes running time.

Titles include "Manners In School," "Emotional Maturity," "Columbia and Venezuela," "Between the Tides," "Tropical Rain Forest," "St. Lawrence Seaway," "The Union of South Africa," "The Panama Canal," "Mark Twain Gives an Interview," "Alaska's Modern Agriculture," "Our Friend the Atom" (Parts 1 & 2), "Meet Mr. Lincoln," "The Civil War," "Sociable 6's to Noisy 9's," "Billy and Nancy—The Twin Goats," "Gary Squirrel," "The Kaola—Live Teddy Bears" and "Reading Maps."

Slots Owner Delays

Reclaiming Devices

WEIRTON—Fifty-six slot machines seized by authorities in a raid on a warehouse in New Cumberland remained stored today in the State Police headquarters.

They are owned by Bennie Phillips of New Cumberland, who regained legal possession Friday in Hancock County Circuit Court.

Judge James G. McClure signed an order directing return of the machines to the owner, and the action nulled an indictment against Phillips charging illegal possession of gaming devices.

State Police did not explain why the machines have not been reclaimed by the owner.

Urges Port Support

CLEVELAND (AP) — Thomas Vail, publisher and editor of the Cleveland Plain Dealer, has called on the city's business and political leaders to push for the development of the Cleveland port.

Failure to do so, the newspaper executive said, could result in other port cities moving ahead of Cleveland because of advance investment, or federal administrators, using federal funds, taking over the lakefront operation.

Rogers Signs Cost Studied

ROGERS — Further study on cost estimates for installing street marker signs was ordered by Council Monday night.

Tentative costs for individual signs for streets, currently without markers, ranges from $4 to $10 without poles, it was announced. Action was tabled to permit further cost studies.

Council agreed not to fill the current Council seat vacancy created with the recent resignation of Sidney Cowan, who was named marshal. The seat is to be filled, along with two other posts for which no candidates filed, with write-in ballots at the Nov. 5 election.

Discussion was held on the need to trim tree overhang along Route 7, and a study was authorized. Mayor Robert McCreary presided. Councilman Kenneth Ours was absent.

Bills totaling $473 were ordered paid.

Next meeting is Nov. 4.

Work Listed For Franklin

SUMMITVILLE — Reports of various Franklin Township road improvements were filed at a meeting of the township trustees Monday night.

Grading and widening has been completed on Rd. 752, county crews are helping trim an embankment and ease a sharp curve on Rd. 729, and widening of a hill section of Rd. 740 was finished last week. Sections of Rds. 762, 847 and 730 have been surface sealed.

Payment of bills totaling $953 was authorized and slag was ordered for roads which may become muddy.

Constable Forrest Young reported 420 miles patrolled in September, 12 warnings issued, two enterings investigated and one case of vandalism.

The trustees will meet Oct. 21.

Adult Education Plan Outlined At Palestine

EAST PALESTINE — Plans for the city school district's first adult education program in history were furthered at a meeting of the Board of Education Monday night.

Details on registration and courses is to be announced shortly for the program slated to begin in about three weeks.

The board conferred with the salary committee of the teachers concerning a new salary contract to go into effect Jan. 1.

An application for a new 66-passenger bus was authorized by the board to the Ohio Department of Education, which plans to obtain buses en masse throughout the state instead of authorizing individual board purchases.

Kennedy Seen Likely To Visit In Indonesia

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP)—The official Indonesian news agency Antara said today President Kennedy is likely to visit Indonesia in December as part of a Far Eastern tour.

A dispatch from the agency's Washington correspondent said Kennedy's itinerary also would probably include Japan, the Philippines and Australia.

An American Embassy official commented: "We haven't heard anything about such a visit in the near future. However, there is no doubt President Sukarno would welcome the visit."

Explorers Surprised Search On For Them

CHIHUAHUA, Mexico (AP)—A group of American explorers, none of whom had been heard from in more than a week, arrived here today greatly surprised that a search had been launched for them.

The explorers, including two young women, were discovered Monday at the primitive village of Creel, located about 7,600 feet above sea level in the mountains of northwest Mexico.

Aid Program To South Viet Given Study

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. aid programs for South Viet Nam are receiving a close review of whether they are helping the anti-Communist war and not going toward the Diem government's campaign against critics at home, officials reported today.

So far, they said, none of the existing programs—running at a rate of more than $400 million a year—has been canceled.

In Saigon, the pro-government Times of Viet Nam charged that the United States had suspended economic aid in an effort to force the Diem government to liberalize its authoritarian policies.

Reliable U.S. sources in Saigon denied this. They said some important licenses for aid to South Viet Nam had been held up for review in Washington or because Congress has not yet acted on the foreign aid bill.

Washington officials said aid projects for South Viet Nam are being given a "hard look" which has had the effect of holding up approval in some cases that previously would have received a prompt go-ahead.

Meanwhile, some of the senators who have demanded an end to military and economic aid to the Diem government question Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara and Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff. The two report today to the Senate Foreign Relations Committee on their recent mission to Saigon.

Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho, and 32 other senators are sponsoring a resolution recommending all aid be cut off unless South Viet Nam President Ngo Dinh Diem ceases his "policies of oppression" against Buddhists and seeks the support of his people.

Police Sift Clues

In Jeweler's Slaying

CLEVELAND (AP)—Richard S. Richards' vanity and his taste for expensive jewelry have produced the only solid clues in the search for his killer.

Missing from his person when Richards' body was found in a car trunk Monday were a brown toupee, a $500 dollar watch and a diamond ring. He also is believed to have been carrying a leather pocket secretary, in which he often carried precious stones.

Richards, 38, owned four jewelry stores and had an interest in a Howard Johnson motel. Cuyahoga County Coroner Samuel R. Gerber said his skull had been smashed by four or five heavy blows late Saturday.

The body was found stuffed in the trunk of a rented convertible parked in a bus turn-around in suburban Berea.

Richards lived at the Pike View Motel in suburban Strongsville.

Board At South Side Grants Teacher Trip

Mrs. Virginia Rodgers, a fifth grade teacher, was authorized to attend the Pennsylvania Secondary Education Association's classroom teachers convention Oct. 18-20 at Bedford Springs at the meeting of the Southern Beaver County School Board Monday evening at the high school in Hookstown.

A field trip for the sixth grade to the Carnegie Museum in Pittsburgh in March was approved, as was the proposed appraisal of the new high school addition and facilities.

The appraisal will be made by the Industrial Appraisal Co. of Pittsburgh. Next meeting is Nov. 4, at the high school. Harvey Todd, president, presided.

Soviet Reported Set To Buy U.S. Wheat

NEW YORK (AP)—Soviet diplomats have made the first direct approach to United States officials for the purchase of four million tons of American wheat, the New York Times said today.

A Washington dispatch said the Russians indicated, through informal diplomatic soundings, they were ready to conclude a sale with cash as soon as President Kennedy approved the deal.

Administration officials said on Monday Kennedy probably would announce his approval today, or Wednesday at his news conference.

Council Votes Labor Strike Legislation

purpose of such recruiting . . . is to have such persons take the place . . . of employees in an industry where a labor strike or lockout exists. . .

It also makes it illegal for any person so recruited to replace an employee in a plant where an authorized strike exists.

The ordinance provides a fine of $500 or a jail term of up to 30 days for a violation. Since it does not contain an emergency clause, it will go into effect in 30 days—about Nov. 7.

Three management spokesmen and three labor representatives spoke from the floor before Council enacted on the legislation. Both sides reiterated essentially the arguments they made at the meeting on Sept. 16. About 45 were in the audience.

THE MANAGEMENT spokesmen were George A. Shaw of Crestview Pl., business manager and publisher of The Review; Walter Sutphen of Thompson Ave., representing the Milliron Co., and John Parsons of Curry St., speaking for the Parsons Coal Co.

Labor was represented by three members of the local unit of the International Typographical Union — Donald Duffy, 720 Avondale St., Joseph Gebauer, 315 Vine St., and Russell Matthews of Grimms Bridge. Duffy and Gebauer are employed at The Review and Matthews works at The Potters Herald.

Shaw said that most men and women who reside in East Liverpool are employed in other cities—particularly Weirton and Midland.

"Since those communities haven't seen fit to pass such a law, I don't think we need it either," he said.

SUTPHEN AND Parsons cited the positions of their companies in warehousing material for area industrial plants. In case of a strike, the manufacturers would insist on their raw materials being moved out of the warehouses, they said. Sutphen said it might discourage some firms from continuing to use warehouses here in favor of communities that do not have such a law.

Duffy declared that an anti-strikebreaker law was enacted at Erie while a strike was in effect against a rubber plant. The company imported strikebreakers, he said. After Council overrode the mayor's veto, an Erie councilman commented that he was "not against management or for labor, but against professional strikebreakers." Duffy said Gebauer said some management opponents of the ordinance were under a "misconception," since it referred only to professional strikebreakers recruited by a third party.

"I think they misconstrue the ordinance," he said. "I don't think it will hurt management."

SUTPHEN SAID the ordinance makes no reference to professional strikebreakers.

Matthews conceded the point, but said the ordinance was "watered down" from the original proposal.

But if professional strikebreakers were brought into East Liverpool they would not be able to work because of the opposition of organized labor, he said.

When the ordinance was presented, Sample was the first councilman to speak.

"I'm opposed to strikebreakers, but I'm opposed to Council setting labor or management disputes," he said. Then he cited a statement from President Kennedy opposing compulsory arbitration in labor disputes.

"I don't think this is our business," Sample said.

Then Welch explained his wish to study the labor-management council proposed at Erie.

"I'M NOT opposed to this ordinance," he said. "I simply want to gather more information. That will help me make up my mind."

"I will support the ordinance because I can't see how it could injure management now or in the future," Berg said. "I don't believe any legitimate business would resort to bringing in professional strikebreakers."

"I think we have people in East Liverpool who would bring in strikebreakers and that's why I will vote for this ordinance," Murray said.

Duffy referred to strikebreakers allegedly used in a 1922 street-car strike.

"I will continue to support the ordinance," he said. "Nobody likes strikebreakers sneaking around and taking your wages. We don't want them here."

Willshaw asserted he does not feel that "government should be required to legislate in favor of union or management."

"I FEEL IT'S uncalled for," he said. "If this ordinance ever was needed, it could be passed in 12 hours. Of all the cities in Ohio, only one other has passed such an ordinance."

Massey said the ordinance does not mention "professional strikebreakers," but he said the wording of the legislation forbids their employment.

"I don't think we want strikebreakers and I don't think management does," he said. "It doesn't bar local companies from dealing directly to employ people if the people are willing to work under such conditions."

That ended the discussion. The ordinance was read, leading eventually to its passage at 8:50 p. m.

Earlier, Council filed two letters favoring enactment of the ordinance. They were from IBOP Local 329, signed by James B. Moss, recording secretary, and Women's Auxiliary 126 of the International Typographical Union, signed by Mrs. Garnett Dally, secretary.

Grading Of Papers Set In Patrolman Exam

The Wellsville Civil Service Commission will meet Wednesday night to grade the tests given to provide an eligibility list for Wellsville patrolmen, with one post vacant.

Three men took the examination Monday night at City Hall, according to John Grafton, commission clerk.

The commission is headed by Rudy F. Wilk, president. The test was held at the request of Mayor William Daugherty.

Lisbon PTA Drive Set

LISBON — The Lincoln School Parent-Teacher Association will begin its annual membership drive Monday. Mrs. Kenneth Appie of Canton Rd. is chairman.

said Judge declared employees in his office still haven't taken their vacations because of the press of work.

C. Walter Ashbaugh, who seconded McConville's motion, suggested the Wellsville and Beaver Local boards are invited. "We're all in the same boat," he added.

Love asked the superintendent to obtain figures from other school districts showing the amount of interest that has been paid out to borrow funds for school operations.

"It can be thousands of dollars and we're getting nothing for it," he declared.

Blair recalled at a county superintendents' meeting a year ago that Bell and Judge told the same story about the shortage of help that was related at the budget hearing.

The date for the meeting will be set at the convenience of Bell, Judge and members of the Wellsville and Beaver Local boards.

The unanimous vote followed, ending the discussion.

Miss Liebschner reported a balance of only $19,842 in all school funds. The fund totals show deficits of $11,332 in the general fund, $836 in the repair and maintenance account, $4,487 in Title III and $5,573 in the workbooks fund. There are balances of $30,539 for bond retirement, $8,920 in the lunchroom account, $2,213 in the improvement fund and $397 for night schools.

Tax

000 would be received from the tax this year. Added to an unencumbered balance of $18,248 carried forward from 1962, it would produce overall receipts of $238,000.

Despite the booming receipts, the tax fund had an unencumbered balance of only $788.53 as of Aug. 17, according to a finance committee report presented to Council at the same time.

The report shows $190,757 of the receipts was transferred into the general fund, the catchall from which Council makes allocations to all other city departments. Included in the $190,757 was $130,757 needed to make up a deficiency in the general funds between the amounts required and the amount actually received from all other sources, the report showed.

By the time a balance was struck on May 17, $235,795 had been spent or encumbered, leaving a balance of $2,453, the report said.

Other principal items of outlay were: Tax office expenses, $20,888; city "master plan" contract, $7,500; Thompson Park baseball field fence, $2,200; a backstop and fence at another Thompson Park ballfield, $950.

Street oiling, $1,500; street seal coating, $5,000; city's share of low cost street surfacing program, $7,000; insurance for Thompson Park swimming pool, $1,000; park road improvements, $985; contribution to Regional Planning Commission, $230; and Planning Commission incidentals, $250.

Hancock Delegation Back From PTA Event

Seven from Hancock County have returned from attending the West Virginia Parent-Teacher Association convention Wednesday through Friday in Charleston. The group included Mrs. Carl DiSantis, Mrs. Anthony DiBart, Mrs. Ted Cwiczynski, Mrs. Ben Costello and Mrs. John Stankiewicz, all of Weirton, and Mrs. Austin Ford of Pughtown and Mrs. Claudius Ford of New Cumberland.

Mrs. Clyde Webb of Parkersburg was elected state president. The County Council, headed by Mrs. Charles Wagner, will meet Oct. 28 in Pughtown.

Man Injured On Job, Boy Hurt Playing Ball

A Midland man hurt at work and a New Cumberland area youth injured playing football were treated at City Hospital Monday.

Andre Cecconi, 34, of Midland Heights, employee of the Midland Heights Homes, Inc., suffered a cut of a finger on a power saw at work.

Jack Shepherd, 14, son of Elmer Shepherd of New Cumberland R. D. 2, received a fractured finger while playing ball.

2 Motorists Fined In State Patrol Cases

LISBON — Two motorists were fined Monday by County Judge James L. MacDonald and two others forfeited appearance bonds in State Highway Patrol cases.

Margaret M. Saccucci, 50, of Salineville R.D. was fined $5 and costs for parking on highway and Chester S. Craig, 58, of Atwater, $5 and costs for speeding. Genevieve Daniels, 30, and Roger Watkins, 63, both of Akron, forfeited $15 each for speeding.

Court Orders Dismissal Of Appeal In Job

LISBON — The three-judge 7th District Court of Appeals, convening here today, ordered dismissal of an appeal filed by Mrs. Jane L. Case of Columbiana from a Common Pleas Court ruling that upheld her dismissal as a Courthouse telephone operator.

In ordering the dismissal, the court found the question was "moot."

County commissioners had dismissed Mrs. Case on grounds she was holding office in a Democratic Club while under Civil Service status with the State Department of Personnel.

County commissioners released four Democratic employees Feb. 1, 1961, when a Republican-controlled Board of Commissioners took over, but an Ohio Supreme Court ruling declared they had Civil Service status and ordered them returned to their former positions.

They were rehired, but immediately fired for political activities. Mrs. Case appealed to the State Department of Personnel, which found her guilty of political activity but ordered only a brief suspension, then returned her to her former position.

Prosecutor G. William Brokaw appealed the ruling to Common Pleas Court and Judge Joel H. Sharp reversed the state's suspension and allowed the firings. Mrs. Case then appealed the Common Pleas Court finding.

Freeway

$1,500, compared with the previous arrangement.

The first "consent ordinance," approved several months ago, obligated the city to pay 5 per cent of the overall cost, plus the cost of any necessary rearranging of utility lines.

The new agreement still requires that the city will be responsible for rearranging utility lines. However, in place of the city paying 5 per cent of the overall cost, it will be required only to provide the detailed plans and specifications — the job for which the federal loan will be sought.

The ramp's cost has been set at $275,000. Bloomgren estimated the city's share will total approximately $10,000 to $11,000.

In discussing the loan for the Freeway planning, Bloomgren said the project may be put down for construction in 1967 or 1968.

It would amount to extending the four-lane highway from its present southern terminus underneath the Newell Bridge to East End, somewhere in the vicinity of Mulberry and State Sts.

When the first Freeway segment was dedicated a year ago, state officials told the city planning should be started soon for the next section to the east.

Bloomgren told Council a start should be made on the engineering as soon as possible, because the Freeway's course to the east will play a large part in any "master plan" developed for the downtown area.

Wellsville Man Gets Suspended Sentence

A Wellsville man received a suspended sentence and a Salem resident was given a year's term at hearings Monday before Juvenile Judge Louis Tobin at Lisbon.

Donald Shultz of 3rd St., Wellsville, was given a one year sentence and fined $1,000 for non-support of his minor child but both fine and jail sentence were suspended on condition he pays back support and keeps up on regular payments.

Frank Pittman of Salem was sentenced to a year in the county jail for non-support of his five minor children. Testimony showed he paid only $25 towards support of his family since Jan. 1.

2 Townships Receive Slag Grants Of $300

LISBON — County commissioners Monday voted $300 slag grants to Madison and Knox Townships. The commissioners also visited the County Home and farm, complying with a state law that requires an inspection at the first meeting of each month.

The board authorized payment of $60.50 to the City of Wellsville for 121 stray dogs destroyed in September.

City Burning Ban Imposed

A warning against burning within the city limits because of the dry conditions was issued today by Fire Chief Charles Bryan.

The chief said anyone caught burning papers or trash will be prosecuted.

He pointed out the danger of a spark setting fire to surrounding grassy areas and then spreading to homes or other buildings.

Burning permits in the rural areas were rescinded about a week ago because of the condition. Area departments have been plagued with numerous grass and brush fires.

City firemen extinguished two such fires Monday. Forty-five minutes were required to quell a blaze along Francis St. at 5:30 p. m.

Brass and brush near the Trinity United Presbyterian Church burned for over 90 minutes before firemen could douse the flames last night at 7:49.

Firemen also were called to Burford St. Monday afternoon at 2:55 when a power line shorted. The Ohio Power Co. was summoned to make repairs.

A car owned by Gary Apple of Rigby St. caught fire last night at 10:16. The fire in the transmission extended to the motor and wiring, firemen said.

Judge Drops Tax Charges

After the defendant produced proof of payment, Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff today ordered dismissal of an affidavit alleging he had violated the city income tax ordinance on two counts.

Ralph Goldsmith Jr., who gave a Lincoln Ave. address, was ordered to pay the $7.50 costs in the case. The affidavit against him was one of a series filed recently by Tax Commissioner D. G. Wilkinson.

Goldsmith was accused of failure to file an estimate of his 1963 earnings and failure to file a final return on 1962 income.

The tax office listed a Florence St. address for the defendant. Bailiff Wilbert P. Taylor reported he was unable to locate Goldsmith there. However, the defendant appeared voluntarily this morning, although a summons had not been served, pleading guilty and showing proof of payment.

Another tax charge scheduled to be heard today still was pending. Rayford Johnson, 1234 Chaffin St., was due for sentencing after entering a guilty plea Sept. 26 on charges of failure to file 1962 or 1963 returns.

The court had continued Johnson's case after the defendant said he wished time to make payment. However, the tax office said today he has not made payment.

Lisbon Firemen Called In Grass Fire Series

LISBON — Firemen answered three calls Monday — all grass fires at the same location.

At 3:45 p.m., they put out a grass fire between E. High and E. Chestnut Sts. about a block east of Jefferson St.

At 6:24 p.m., it flared up again and at 9:40 p.m. they were called again to the same location but could find no fire. There was no damage.

Valachi Set To Bare Mob 'Blue Book'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Joseph Valachi, the Mafia tatter, helps unveil today a blue book of the New York underworld's five hundred, or so.

Returning to the limelight after a recess of the Senate Investigations subcommittee hearings on organized crime, Valachi is scheduled to spell out the details of "at least two murders" and explore some of the gambling rackets, particularly the "numbers game."

Subcommittee counsel Jerome S. Adlerman said charts purporting to list kingpins of the New York area mob and hundreds of their underlings would be placed in evidence.

This blue book of La Cosa Nostra families, Adlerman said, would be the pivot for testimony in which Valachi and others will disclose "who runs the rackets and what the rackets are as of the present time."

Some of the racketeering, he said, is masked by a false front of legitimate business activities.

4 Are Obligated In East End Post

Donald Ross, John Morris, Ray Humphrey and Theodore Baxter were obligated as new members by Charles Moore, past commander, at the meeting of American Legion Post 374 Monday night at the East End home.

Kenneth Brooks, first vice commander, reported 143 members enrolled.

Following the meeting, the post's baseball team was honored with a dinner. It was announced that a Columbiana County Council delegation will visit the Massillon State Hospital Wednesday to entertain the patients.

Robert Landfried, commander, pointed out that contrary to an advertisement placed in The Review Sept. 30, the sale of combs in the community is not a post project. He explained that before the advertisement was placed, some individual members of the post were contacted but not the post as a whole.

Auxiliary members were guests. Next meeting is Monday night. A dance will be held Saturday with the George Hamilton's orchestra providing music.

Man Wins Acquittal In Motor Theft Link

After a lengthy preliminary hearing today, Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff dismissed a charge against Henry Roach Jr., 22, of 1932 Pennsylvania Ave. Ext. which alleged the East End man "received or concealed" an outboard motor, knowing it had been stolen.

Roach had pleaded not guilty to the charge, signed by Patrolman Paul Blevins.

It alleged he received or concealed a motor valued at $500 which was stolen from a boat the night of June 27 on the lot of a Pennsylvania Ave. service station.

The defense contended that Roach was keeping the motor at his home for a relative and had no knowledge of the fact it allegedly had been stolen. Roach was represented by Atty. W. S. Foulks.

Man, 28, Gets 60-Day Term

A 28-year-old Hancock County man was sentenced to a 60-day term in County Jail after Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff convicted him today on a charge he stole two men's jackets worth $8 last April 25 from King's Bargain Center on E. 5th St.

Edward P. House of Congo also was sentenced to a concurrent 10-day term on a charge of trespassing early Saturday in Central Fire Station.

Patrolman Kenneth H. Mooney testified that House admitted stealing the two jackets from the downtown store, then selling them for about $1.25 each to persons in the American Poolroom on E. 6th St.

House was arrested on the day of the alleged theft, but walked out of the interrogation room when officers were called away on an emergency. Officer Mooney said. He was served with the warrant on the theft charge after Patrolman David K. Mumaw took him into custody on the trespassing charge.

House told the court he was "on a drinking spree" at the time of the alleged theft and remembers nothing about it. He told the judge he was hospitalized for the last five months as the result of burns suffered in an auto fire near Akron.

House pleaded guilty to the trespassing charge. The court entered a not guilty plea for him on the petty larceny charge.

Fund Canvass Opens

LISBON — The annual Community Chest drive got under way today in Lisbon and Center Township after leaders picked up supplies Monday night at the VFW Home. The goal is $7,500. Prizes donated by Hamilton's Drugstore will be awarded the first canvassers to complete assignments, according to Atty. Donald Lewis, chairman.

Wide Open To Conjecture

If the hush-hush faction in this country would like to know what's wrong with managing the news, it can take its cue from the tragedy in South Viet Nam.
The government's official position is that certain Buddhists have been used by North Viet Nam Communists to muddy the political waters and this ruse has been checked by forthright government action. Dissident Buddhists have been dealt with severely but properly. There now is no problem.
All who say there is a problem are misguided or lying. The United States should not be indignant about oppression of Buddhists because Buddhists are not being oppressed. The United Nations should waste no time discussing oppression because everything has been taken care of. Moral indignation should cease. All is well in Saigon.

No Place To Hide

The House Appropriations Committee has manhandled $195 million for fallout shelters into oblivion and with a little luck this item will stay there until something plausible has been designed to spend it on.
With the possible exception of supershelters that will be made available to high authority if thermonuclear war ever starts, there is no place to hide in the event of ultimate destruction.
The only safe place will be at a distance from the blast so great its repercussions will be dissipated. All who are fortunate enough to be that far away will not be living in urban centers. They will be too scattered to take advantage of fallout shelters built for that specific purpose.
This is not to say there can be no such thing as a fallout shelter; there can be. It is only to say no national program for building fallout shelters has been devised. The $195 million the House Appropriations Committee has taken out of the budget request is not a meaningful sum. A nationwide program would cost more like $195 billion—if a program existed.

The trouble is, the government of South Viet Nam managed the news so long it doesn't know when all is well. No one can take its word for anything, whereas nearly everybody can put faith in professional writers and cameramen in South Viet Nam to report what is going on.
It's an old battle, this tussle between authoritarians and the press. The authoritarians always bear the same handicap. No one believes them.
They live by managing the news. That's part of authoritarianism, and it always ends the same way. One day they must plead with people to believe them — and they fail. If they never leveled with anybody before, why should they be taken at their word in a crisis?

Until it has been brought into existence, there is no purpose to be served by piddling away money to build things that would be obsolete before they were finished.

Real Rocketry

The test launching of a 20-pound missile to a 21,200-foot height by a city rocket enthusiast over the weekend may not have added new data to the nation's space research program.
But Fred Crossen and the some 50 younger amateur rocket experts were involved in some vitally interesting and fundamental work related to today's and tomorrow's technology. Here was no teen-age tomfoolery, but some serious adventure under carefully controlled conditions needed for safe and accurate testing.
These young men typify the creative and knowledgeable groups of American youth in arts and sciences who may be among the leaders in their fields within a few years.

South's Strong Position

WASHINGTON
Sen. Paul Douglas, D-Ill., complaining the other day about the power enjoyed by Southern members of Congress, declared:
"The sober truth is that while Grant might have taken Richmond, the South has taken Capitol Hill."
Douglas, who wants new laws on civil rights, was somewhat in the position of a football coach talking about how tough the opposition is.
Still, as can be demonstrated mathematically, the South does have a strong position at the Capitol. This is a factor contributing to new talk of diluting the role of seniority in reaching the top in Congress.
As things now stand, seniority is the basic factor in getting good committee assignments and chairmanships.
SOUTHERNERS hold more than their geographical share because so many of them have been in Congress for so long, sometimes sympathetic and sometimes opposed to national administration purposes.
The new talk is circulating among a group of self-styled "loyal" House Democrats who say they would not abandon seniority. But they would strike at the seniority of those members who were found to be actively disloyal to the party in presidential elections.
They would have the party caucus, which makes committee assignments in the House, pass over those representatives who support the opposition in 1964.
Those named could be removed from committees on which they have long seniority or could be denied further promotion on the committees. This would lessen their chances of becoming chairmen.

AN APPRAISAL of what chances this movement has will have to await the 1964 presidential campaign, to see who among the Democratic members might bolt the national ticket. Some Southerners have bolted in the past, and some are restive about 1964.
But the chances of Congress tinkering very much with the claims of seniority are not all strong.
This is true even though arguments can be made that the system gives power to men who are not necessarily qualified.
The question that up to now has countered attempts to junk the system is this: What better way is there to choose the chairman?
Chairmen could be appointed by the speaker of the House and the Senate majority leader. But 50 years ago Speaker Joseph Cannon had that power and abused it so that the House took it away from him.
Couldn't the committeemen themselves elect the chairman?
This idea was advanced during the time that Sen. Alben W. Barkley, D-Ky., was majority leader. He said, from the background of a lifetime of political experience, that it just would not work.
He predicted: "Jealousies, ambitions and all the frailties of human nature would crop out in the electioneering methods of men who wanted to be chairmen of committees."

Contrary Opinion

An item in the paper said the first annual Contrary Opinion Forum had been held in Manchester, N. H.
Such a forum is a signal tribute to an idea. The idea came from the mind of Humphrey B. Neill, who introduced it years back in expositions written for the Manchester paper and published widely throughout the country.
Others began to give attention to the Neill thesis, which was that it is always important to think contrary to prevailing opinion, because prevailing opinion mostly ends up by being wrong.
This was attractive for persons inclined to think across the grain of what sometimes is called the "common wisdom." People who do this were born contrary. Contrary opinions come as naturally to them — to us, that is — as going along with prevailing opinion comes to others.
What makes it tough is the fact we spend out lives in the minority. We never have the satisfaction of being right. We are out of step with all the rest of the people in the big parade.
WHEN EVERYBODY knew the world was flat, we said no sir it is round.
When the wise guys knew malaria came from breathing night air, we insisted the culprit was mosquitoes.
At a time when it was ridiculous to doubt bleeding sick people made them better, we were offensively ridiculous. We also thought Nurse Kenney was right when the A.M.A. was trying to have her scourged out of the republic.
We did not think Mussolini was a saviour because he made Italian trains run on time. We insisted this creep was a creep.

By Truman Twill
It was not our opinion that fighting World War II check by jowl with the Soviet Union as allies made Communists friendly to the United States. We continued to mistrust them.
We never swallowed the creed that every punk that screams he is fighting Communism is entitled to fish in Uncle Sam's pockets.
We have run true to form on re-runs of Civil War battles. We insisted the re-runs in Little Rock, Birmingham and Ole Miss deserved our attention.

OUR BUILT-IN perversity has thrust us into minority positions on newsworthiness of pictures of Jayne Mansfield, senatorial courtesy to the hot canary Valachi, the smug pretense that Las Vegas is a tribute to free enterprise and that the horsepower craze in autos designed as juggernauts is beyond challenge by potential victims.
We're the ones who asked about Roy Cohn when the kid was Joe McCarthy's fair-haired boy. It has been our role to bet against the New York Yankees, to ask questions about thalidomide and a lot of other junk people are still swallowing and to doubt that whoever is shooting off his mouth in Washington, D. C., at any given moment is smarter than the wobble-heads busting off at the bazoo 10 years ago.
As contrary opinion experts, we question industrialism, vitamins, boob tubes, geriatrics, tranquilizers, hormones, cortisone, electronics and computers.
And with deference to Humphrey B. Neill, who turned us into a cult, we doubt that an annual Contrary Opinion Forum is worth the effort because the delegates won't agree on anything anyway.

Labor Revolts On Pittsburgh Issue

By Victor Riesel

PITTSBURGH
They are still chuckling here over the case of the "hungry labor leaders." Angry would be a better word than hungry, however. This case marks the first revolt of some militant labor men against the Democrats in this area in more than 30 years.
So the amusement over the incident is not universal. Advance men, building the John Kennedy reelection machine in Western Pennsylvania, do not think the incident funny — and they wonder if it is an incident or an omen.

Victor Riesel

What irritated the Democrats was the fact that the rebel group was — and is — led by William J. Hart, one of the most influential leaders of the United Steelworkers of America. He is director of the region, a member of the Steelworkers' national board, and president of the Allegheny County Labor Council.
Under his chairmanship, the council's executive committee convened as a section of "COPE" — the AFL-CIO Committee on Political Education.
AFTER TWO HOURS, they issued a statement hot enough to blister the local Democrats and have its political wind felt in Washington.
In Allegheny County for four years we have suffered a lack of vision on the part of McGrady and McClelland (the Democrats) ... we cannot as labor leaders and citizens of Allegheny County place the prospects of the health, welfare and progress and our

And the labor leaders are speaking quite strongly.
THE RIGHT to do so was given them at a meeting of the executive committee of the Allegheny County Labor Council at a special meeting on the night of Sept. 21 — the evening before the Democrats refused to let them breakfast with Lyndon Johnson. At the council meeting they voted to reject the Democrats and endorse the Republicans, Commissioner John M. Walker and former Judge Blair F. Gunther.

county for the next four years in the hands of men who trifle with the trivial and refuse to recognize economic facts.
"Mass transit, rapid transit, public stadiums, unemployment, jobless youth, and idle labor present problems to McGrady and McClelland that they cannot comprehend, let alone resolve. They prefer to cajole the voters with county fairs and even these are fringed with costly concessions.
"We believe that Walker and Gunther (the Republicans) will be commissioners with a plan and a purpose with the determination for positive action.
"We believe that the voters of Allegheny County, particularly the labor-minded, must discard McClelland and McGrady, as bankrupt of ideas, spineless of purpose and devoid of any progressive determination."
ALL THIS could be a local feud to be forgotten in next year's presidential election. But as political feuds go, these are bitter and angry words. They'll not soon be forgotten — not by the labor leaders, not by the Democratic leaders and not by the voters.
And no conflict into which Bill Hart throws himself is a futile one, or unimportant. In a tight presidential race next year, anything that affects tens of thousands of voters who will remember this year's election will be of great political significance.
The case of the hungry labor leaders may yet make history.

Defeat Without War

By David Lawrence

Concessions Threaten U. S. Foreign Policy

America's foreign policy is going through a critical stage. There is a growing feeling that, in order to "reduce tensions," secret diplomacy has taken over and that important concessions have been or will be made to the Soviets.
The peoples of Eastern Europe are reported to be most apprehensive about an American tendency to grant such concessions — as, for example, on the sale of wheat — without achieving anything in return.
Thus, former Vice President Nixon, in an article in this week's issue of The Saturday Evening Post, says flatly that, while the signing of the test-ban treaty may have decreased the danger of war, "the danger of defeat without war has been substantially increased."

Mr. Nixon writes that "a great new Communist offensive is being launched against the free world, an offensive without resort to war, an offensive all the more dangerous because it is so difficult to recognize and to meet effectively." He adds:
"I believe that we are now entering a period of the greatest danger of Communist expansion in the free world since immediately after World War II."
MR. NIXON does not reveal how much of the foregoing program he advocated in the inner councils at the time. He says about the current situation, however, that it would be "shockingly immoral for the United States to do anything directly or indirectly which would give the impression that we accept Khrushchev's price — namely, that in return for 'peaceful coexistence' we would draw a line down the middle of Europe and accept as permanent the Communist enslavement of 97 million Eastern Europeans.

legal argument that the Communist Kadar government had 'invited' the Soviet forces to come in.
"Second, when Khrushchev refused to withdraw his troops from Budapest, we should have broken off diplomatic relations with the Soviet Union.
"Third, we should have permitted the organization of 'volunteers' in free countries to help the freedom fighters. This is the action the Kremlin has taken in corresponding situations.
"Fourth, when the puppet Kadar government was set up in place of the free government, we should have recognized a government-in-exile.
Such a government-in-exile by itself could not have changed the situation but it would have been a symbolic rallying point not only for Hungarians but for people throughout Eastern Europe, who admired their courage and shared their ideals of freedom."

MR. NIXON does not reveal how much of the foregoing program he advocated in the inner councils at the time. He says about the current situation, however, that it would be "shockingly immoral for the United States to do anything directly or indirectly which would give the impression that we accept Khrushchev's price — namely, that in return for 'peaceful coexistence' we would draw a line down the middle of Europe and accept as permanent the Communist enslavement of 97 million Eastern Europeans.
A good deal of uneasiness prevails on Capitol Hill concerning the possible changes in American foreign policy.
There have been hints right along that some kind of "deals" were being made behind the scenes.
When Khrushchev agreed to dismantle the missile bases in Cuba, for instance, there were rumors about side agreements. This was repeatedly denied by the administration.
NOW THE SIGNING of the nuclear test-ban treaty has been followed by discussion in the press of proposals for the sale of wheat by America to Communist-bloc countries without any corresponding concessions to the United States in the "cold war."
The issue is hardly partisan. Though there are many Republicans who have criticized the trend of the Kennedy administration policy, there are lots of Democrats who have done the same.
The fear seems to be that the State Department to agree to a "non-aggression" treaty as between the Warsaw Pact countries and the NATO countries.
The idea advanced is that a kind of "status quo" could then be attained.
At the same time, those who are familiar with Eastern European affairs say it could be just a starting point for the complete abandonment by this country of the peoples in Eastern Europe who have depended so much on the moral support of the United States in their crusade for freedom.

Sheldon Silk

By James Calogero

BOSTON
Life at Boston advertising agencies has settled down to a quiet routine now that Sheldon Silk is working.
Silk no longer is making the rounds of the agencies in search of employment.
Receptionists recall the well-dressed man of 30, carrying an attache case, who breezed in with the pronouncement: "My name is Sheldon Silk."
The sound of his name triggered a 60-piece orchestra into blaring forth a fanfare usually associated with kings and TV guest stars.
Silk stands 5-10, weighs 175 pounds and is unmarried. He's not likely to go unnoticed by pretty young receptionists, but he took no chances. He taped the orchestral fanfare on a portable tape recorder he carried in his attache case.
After the musical equivalent of a 21-gun salute, Sheldon would asked exactly 4 minutes and 17 seconds of the boss's time.
That's how long it took to play a sales pitch on a roll of tape which Silk had prepared for bosses and personnel directors in his effort to land an advertising job.
Silk, who lives with his widowed mother in suburban Randolph, Mass., says:
"Actually, I'm a very conservative man. My musical approach was a rebellion against the indifference of secretaries and receptionists and doors that are bolted against the job-seeker."
How did it all work out?
"The reaction was either cold shoulder or hot tongue," said Silk.
"I got to see a lot of personnel directors but I sure frightened a lot of receptionists in the process.

Some rushed me into inner offices, others called to their bosses to come out as quickly as possible — all out of sheer fright, I'm sure."
Last week, Silk left his tape recorder home and immediately landed a job in the credit department of a chain-store clothing.
He got the job by answering a newspaper want ad.

East Palestine Council Advised New Well Needed

EAST PALESTINE — The need for an additional municipal well to boost water volume was described for Council Monday night by Mayor Robert Harding.

The mayor said the refilling of the city reservoir recently after a cleaning project revealed a low volume of water, it taking a week to fill the 300,000-gallon reservoir.

The city has three wells in a water basin area west of here. Council agreed to study the need for future action.

Council also took under advisement a recommendation that water meters be placed in some 560 homes currently on a flat-rate plan. Meters would cost some $35 and would be obtained by property owners and maintained by the city.

Council authorized payment of $500 as its share of liability damages in a personal injury suit involving Stephen Shoff, a city youth hurt during a James St. cleaning project a number of years ago.

The jury will be charged by Common Pleas Judge Joel H. Sharp, who is hearing criminal cases this term.

The trial of Gene Daniel Boals, 33, of Salem R. D. 4, indicted for driving while under the influence of intoxicating liquor, will begin immediately following the Hoschar case.

The jury in the Hoschar trial includes Mabel Kried, Leonard Stroble and Lula Lee of East Liverpool; Mildred Elliott and Dorothy Kidney of Wellsville; Martha Capel, Salem; Fay Carter, Salineville; Lois Coie and G. V. Weinstock, Lisbon; Elva Horn and Dean Johnson, Columbiana, and Alida Thompson, Kensington. Leoda Gerber of Salem is the alternate.

If Your Dog's Noisy Read Him This Story

Safety-Service Director Robert Owen said today city officials have received an increasing number of complaints in the last few days that howling dogs disturb the sleep of some residents. Asking dog-owners to curb their pets' noise, the director pointed out that Section 207 of the City Code makes it a misdemeanor to harbor a dog which "barks, howls or yelps frequently."

Dog-owners who are thoughtful of their neighbors should take steps to restrain the canine noise-makers, Owen commented.

These are deposits scraped from a dirty carburetor. They can cause stalling, rough idling, gasoline waste!

Boron® cleans carburetors

Sohio has put a special Carburetor Cleaner in Boron Gasoline that dissolves dirt deposits and washes them away!

To show you how dirty a carburetor can get, Sohio cut one in half. And the hard deposits that had formed inside around the throttle plate were scraped out.

Deposits like these are caused by tiny dirt particles in crankcase fumes from your own engine, in the exhaust of other cars around you in traffic, and in the atmosphere itself. Your air cleaner can't trap all these dirt particles. Some do get through to your carburetor and can build up deposits in the throttle plate section. They can block the air flow to your engine when you are idling. The result is stalling, rough idling and wasted gasoline.

If your carburetor is already dirty, the special Carburetor Cleaner in Boron Gasoline will clean it. Because the deposits are hard, the cleaning process may take time. But the end result will be a Boron Clean Carburetor! If your carburetor is already clean, regular use of Boron Gasoline will keep it clean!

Council Gets Data

Lions Club Plans Crossing 'Island'

A Lions Club plan to build a pedestrian safety island on the wide expanse of Broadway at E. 4th St. was explained to Council Monday night by Councilman Edward B. Massey.

Massey showed Council detailed plans for the project turned over to him by Christ Pallis, a member of the club, and asked the street committee to make an immediate investigation and present any recommendations for the work.

Massey suggested that any necessary enabling legislation be presented at the next session Oct. 21 so that work can start as soon as possible.

THE PLAN shows the island would be constructed on Broadway just east of the Carnegie Public Library. It would allow space on its west side for one lane of traffic proceeding south on Broadway to turn west on E. 4th. Traffic moving east on E. 4th and headed north on Broadway would be required to keep to the right of the island.

Massey said the club will build the island to the city's specifications. It will be similar to another island on Broadway at E. 6th St., with either an iron railing or a planted area to separate it from the street, he said.

Massey, commending the club for the plan, said the island will help eliminate a hazard both for pedestrians and autos. In erecting the island, it would be necessary to eliminate two parking meters on the south side of E. 4th between Union St. and Broadway, he said.

IN OTHER business, Council held a long discussion with Safety - Service Director Robert Owen on a request to provide access to four homes on Densmore Ave. that allegedly were left without a connection to nearby streets because of construction of the West End - California Hollow Freeway. The street lies below Dresden Ave. in the vicinity of the old stone quarry.

The discussion was touched off after Howard Lawton of Densmore Ave. appeared personally before Council to lodge a complaint. He said Mayor Bert H. Goodballet promised to seek a solution and call him, but he never has heard from the mayor.

Massey declared he feels the city should get in touch with the State Highway Department to attempt to provide access for the homes.

"If those people never had access before the Freeway was built, I could see the reason for ignoring the complaint," he said. "I feel these people need consideration. I understand private property could be bought for a nominal price to provide the easement. I recommend the mayor, the director and the engineer contact the Highway Department."

OWEN replied that he and the mayor and other officials "tried to find a solution for a long time."

"We did everything possible to force the state and the contractor to right the wrong they created," he said. "They promised, but they did nothing. Every avenue has been explored. We worked on it for months."

As the discussion ended, Massey suggested that the administration check again with the Highway Department.

Council conferred in caucus with three employees of the Ohio Bell Telephone Co., representatives of Local 4318, Communications Workers of America.

The union men urged enactment of an ordinance requiring that a man must be on duty at street level when another is working underground in a manhole on such items as repair of telephone cables.

OPEN MANHOLES are a hazard to children and other pedestrians, as some are 10 feet deep, they said. In addition, there is a chance the employee working underground might be overcome by gas or burned in an explosion and there would be a person nearby to rescue him, they said.

The telephone company's general practice is to send only one man on an underground cable-splicing assignment, the union men said.

Councilman S. James Welch suggested Council confer with union and management spokesmen to get both sides of the story. Clerk Lawrence Zollinger was asked to write the company to seek to arrange a meeting.

COUNCIL ALSO met in caucus with Atty. Donald D. Shay, representing Kiddie Rides, Inc., of Chicago. Shay said the company owns two coin-operated "hobby horse" rides at the McCrory 5 & 10-cent store and is concerned about a Council proposal to license such devices. The suggestion was made at the meeting Sept. 16.

Atty. Shay said the machines gross about $200 a year, but net only about $6. He said the company would not oppose a "reasonable" annual license fee.

Councilman George E. Willshaw said the licensing proposal still is under study by the ordinance committee.

Council approved three recommendations by Councilman Kenneth C. Berg, chairman of the street committee.

The first calls for installation of two street lights underneath the Freeway ramp in West End which spans W. 8th St. The light is needed in the area underneath the bridge, particularly as an aid to children who walk to Westgate School, Berg said.

THE TWO OTHER changes affect parking regulations in short stretches.

Berg recommended that a parking ban on Lincoln Ave. between Smith St. and E. 8th St. be moved from the west side to the east. Welch said residents of the area asked the change for a 90-day trial.

Berg also recommended a change that would ban parking in Peach Alley between W. 4th and W. 3rd Sts. At present, parking in the alley is banned between W. 6th and W. 4th Sts., he said.

Council enacted an amended appropriation ordinance to provide $5,000 for a new water line on Grant St. to link together St. Clair Ave. and Dresden Ave. The action confirmed an allocation previously listed in the annual appropriation ordinance last spring.

In addition, the measure transferred $100 to the sewer revenue fund and $50 to Municipal Court for "incidentals."

REPORTING on an investigation he made at the request of the planning committee, Owen said East Liverpool needs about 296 parking meters to replace a similar number of worn-out devices.

The 296 are 1947 models which are "worn beyond repair," he said.

Council approved a motion for a joint meeting of the planning committee and the director to draft a recommendation for Council prior to its next meeting.

Councilman Frank Duffy reported the franchise committee has approved an application filed in September to transfer the franchise of the Inter-City Transit Co. from John W. Young to his brother-in-law, Victor Houser. The bus firm serves the St. Clair Ave. and Glenmore areas.

Chief Charles Bryan filed an application for $275 in expense money for a trip to the convention of the International Fire Chiefs' Association Oct. 28-31 in Memphis, Tenn. He said he has attended the conference for 22 years, but the city paid his expenses on only one occasion.

COUNCILMAN FLOYD Murray asked the street committee to investigate complaints of heavy truck traffic on Michigan Ave. He said a load limit may be needed to discourage truck travel on residential streets. He also asked the committee to study a request for installation of brick paving on upper Dewey Ave.

Berg asked repair of a brick gutter on Riley Ave.

Welch read a letter from Solicitor Joseph W. Cooper outlining the state law on the city's responsibility in a case where a tree overhangs a street.

The letter said the city has the right to "regulate planting, trimming and preservation of shade trees in streets, alleys and public grounds."

It added that the city has an obligation to keep streets free of nuisances to the traveling public. If safety requires, a tree may be removed from within the boundary of a street, even if it is privately owned, the letter said.

WELCH SAID the city may need local legislation to implement actions for removal or trimming of trees.

Willshaw asked the street department to expedite painting of street center lines as a guide to motorists on foggy mornings.

Duffy asked scraping of an alley between Pennsylvania Ave. and Erie St. He said he filed the request last winter but the alley has not been scraped. He also asked investigation of a drainage complaint at Park Ave. and Pennsylvania Ave. and reported a request for a stop sign at E. 4th and College Sts.

Duffy also renewed a complaint against M. & A. Motors operations on Andrews Ave. He has charged repeatedly that the auto firm's cars and other equipment encroach on the sidewalk areas.

"The condition still exists, something has to be done," he said.

The meeting opened with invocation by President Charles N. Edwards.

The New York Mets came close to winning their first baseball series but Cincinnati's Reds lopped them, 10 games to 8.

Brush Blaze Area Ditched By Bulldozer

A bulldozer was used again Monday night in an effort to halt a brush and woods fire that already has burned over 35 acres on the farm of Charles Coleman off Stagecoach Rd. in Liverpool Township. The equipment had been used previously on the stubborn blaze.

The area lies above Pennsylvania Ave. Ext. near the state line and is virtually inaccessible.

The fire has been burning off and on since Sept. 25. The use of the bulldozer was authorized by the Ohio Forestry Division in an attempt to halt the creeping fire line.

The bulldozer arrived on the scene about dark and immediately started trenching a wide area around the fire line. Trees were knocked over and then shoved away.

Firemen from the Liverpool Township East and West volunteer departments have been fighting the fire since it started.

Charles Heffner of near Wellsville, an investigator and firefighter for the Forestry Division, spent all day in the area and remained until about 12:30 a. m. today directing the operation. Robert McIntosh of Seio, division warden, and another investigator also were at the scene yesterday.

McIntosh authorized the hiring of the dozer to cut the trench. There were 18 men from Dixonville and eight from LaCroft on the job last night. The Calcutta volunteer department sent five men and used its tanker truck to haul water into the area from a lake near the Coleman home.

Over 2,000 gallons were used last night. More than 2,000 had been poured onto the flames Sunday.

Firemen said there is about six inches of dry leaves, branches and old logs on the ground. The fire smolders beneath the surface and then breaks through.

"You can walk several feet past the actual surface burning, dig down and find more embers beneath the surface," one fireman commented.

The line extends from the hillside above Pennsylvania Ave. Ext. at Klondyke toward the state line to the hillside above the Calcutta Smiths Ferry Rd.

If the blaze jumps the trench, it will be into another heavily wooded area. The woods are very dry and with the falling of this year's foliage, the material is getting thicker on the ground all the time.

14 At Lisbon Sewing Event

Fourteen members of the Lisbon Council of United Church Women met Friday at St. Jacob's United Church of Christ with Mrs. Carl Hall, president, presiding. There were two guests.

Forty cancer bandages and 36 gowns made from white shirts for the lepers were completed.

Mrs. Harold Adams of the Fairfield Rd., chairman of the annual UNICEF collection, sponsored by the council, said the date will be announced.

Next meeting Nov. 1 will be World Community Day at the First Christian Church. The Rev. Fred Shiltz, pastor of the Methodist Church, will be guest speaker.

Double - Four Club members were guests of Miss Helene Prudner of W. Chestnut St. Saturday evening.

Plans for the next club meeting will be announced.

Board To Consider

Reduction Asked In School Rental

A request from the Quota Club for a reduction of rental fees for the rehearsal for the play it sponsored last weekend at Westgate School was taken under consideration Monday night by the Board of Education.

Mrs. Dorothy Horsley, spokeswoman for the three-member delegation, asked a reduction in the $75 fee paid by the club for five rehearsals.

MRS. HORSLEY pointed out proceeds from the play are used to operate a speech and hearing clinic for 44 children. "It's a project to help the schools; if we didn't the board would have to assume the cost," she said.

She estimated the club spends about $1,000 a year on the clinic. The profit from the play is expected to be approximately $130 to $200, she said.

James Lowe, president, said the charges made are nominal fees set by the building committee, but promised the board could see what could be done.

James Moss, chairman of the building committee, said the charge is based on actual cost but explained the committee is gathering data and expects to arrive at new charges.

However, Supt. Paul H. Blair said the charges will be higher, not lower, pointing out the board is going into the red on rentals.

LEARNING from the superintendent that no charge has been made for either Kent State or Geneva College extension classes, Harry D. McConville said he can see no difference between the clinic and the classes.

He warned the board might be "penny wise and dollar foolish" in its attitude, pointing out poor public relations might endanger future programs.

Mrs. Nessie Dunlop recalled the board threshed out the rates at the August meeting and also decided to have the building committee come up with new rental fees by the first of the year.

Following the discussion, Blair distributed estimates of costs of electricity for various facilities.

Prepared by the Ohio Power Co., the report estimated the cost of lighting an average classroom in the high school or Westgate at 3 cents an hour.

The cost of the entire electrical load at Patterson Field during a football game was estimated at $6.30 per hour while the flood lighting alone cost $5.04. The total cost at Memorial Auditorium is $1.28 per hour.

THE BOARD authorized rental of the M-A to the Blue and White Nonpareil Club on Nov. 30 for the annual football banquet.

On Blair's recommendation, the board also authorized a full credit for Typing I.

Blair explained that prior to last year students received a total of two credits for Typing I and II, but it was reduced to half a credit each last year since only one credit is allowed toward graduation.

The move backfired, the superintendent said, pointing out students now are not taking typing. One classroom of typewriters is in storage, he said.

The board also received a report prepared by Asst. Supt. George Hargraves analyzing 47 students who dropped out of high school between July 1, 1962, and June 30, 1963.

OF THE 19 boys and 28 girls who quit school, the report showed 11 had work certificates, eight entered the armed forces, nine were married, 13 were overage, five quit for health reasons and two because of court action.

The report also discussed the time of the year they withdrew, the occupation of their parents, the students' IQ score, their age, credits earned, average grade, attendance record and activities.

An additional report is being prepared by Hargraves and should be ready soon, Blair said.

The board granted permission for the "twin bands" to appear at the Geneva homecoming Saturday and at Ohio Wesleyan University on Nov. 9.

It also authorized payment of $80 for a Sales Clinic Workshop held at Westgate. The cost is being reimbursed by the Chamber of Commerce and the State Department of Education which sponsored the workshop.

THE BOARD also received letters from the Pleasant Heights and Glenmore home and school groups, expressing their appreciation for work done at the buildings this summer.

Moss, board vice president and a trustee of the Community Improvement Corp., announced the impending visit of Gov. James A. Rhodes and his staff on Oct. 17.

High School Principal Carl Pellini was a guest.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Paul Brandon and Mrs. Fred Campbell.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Soisson Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Carl Soisson and C. D. Beemer visited last weekend with Marilyn Soisson, a sophomore at Edinboro State College, Edinboro, Pa.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Glenn have returned from visiting Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Crooks of Akron.

Trial By Jury Slated Oct. 21

Oct. 21 has been set for a Municipal Court jury trial in a unique civil action in which the city of Chester is suing an East Liverpool resident for $248.93 and costs.

Chester is seeking the sum from Ronald W. Orr, 644 Minerva St., for repairs to a fire hydrant at 1st St. and Columbia Dr. damaged in a 1961 traffic mishap.

The petition filed by Atty. William Ingram, Chester solicitor, alleges Orr signed a note for $228 on Jan. 29, 1962, promising to repay the amount in semi-monthly installments of $10 each beginning Feb. 17.

The note stipulated the debt would be interest-free if payments were made promptly but 6 percent interest would be charged otherwise.

Atty. William E. Conklin, counsel for Orr, in his answer admitted the defendant signed the note but alleged the agreement was obtained by "duress, coercion and intimidation" and that Orr was in ignorance or mistake of his private rights and interests.

The case originally was scheduled for trial early in September but then was postponed when Atty. Conklin filed the demand for a jury trial.

Lisbon Grange's Master Inducted

LISBON — Glen Watkins of the Canton Rd. was installed as master of the Lisbon Grange, at a coverdish dinner meeting Saturday evening at the Grange Hall.

Bennett Taylor, scout executive, will screen a film on Astronaut Gordon Cooper.

Group Airs Water Plans In St. Clair

The proposed new water and sewer service district for St. Clair Township was discussed at a meeting of the Township Development Association Monday night at the Glenmoor fire station.

John Duffy, president, reported on the Common Pleas Court hearing Sept. 5 at which the formation of the district was authorized.

A motion, submitted by Tom Worcester, to have an evening public hearing on the proposed district held was approved. Worcester said an evening session would permit more to attend.

Appointed a nominating committee for election of officers were Richard Mattern, Robert Frontz, Emil Dominick, Worcester, Frank Mitcheson.

Discussion was held on the population growth in the township and the proposed 7-mill Beaver Local school levy. Mattern reported on a recent meeting of the Regional Planning Commission.

Frontz and Mitcheson, candidates for township trustees, and William Smith, school board candidate, spoke. Next meeting is Nov. 4.

Delivery Set On City Truck

A new refuse collection truck with an 18-cubic yard "packer" body is scheduled to be delivered to the incinerator department Wednesday by Wimmer Motor Sales of Walnut St., Safety-Service Robert Owen said today.

The vehicle was purchased by the Board of Control approximately six weeks ago on a bid of $8,539. The cost includes $4,209 for the GMC chassis and $4,330 for the body, manufactured by the Trux-Mox Co. of Richmond, Va. Delivery of the truck will bring to four the number of "packer" body vehicles in service in the incinerator department. The collection crews also use two trucks with open bodies.

The unit has been delivered to Wimmer's and now is being serviced for delivery tomorrow, Owen said. A factory representative will instruct city crews in the operation of the truck and the "packer" body controls, he said.

Council recently authorized a bond issue to cover the purchase price of the vehicle.

Owen said the delivery is timely, as one of the department's old collection trucks broke down yesterday on E. 2nd St. and was pushed to the city garage nearby.

State Aide Due Board Seeks Explanation On New Work Week Law

Because of a difference in interpretation of an attorney general's opinion on a new state law establishing a 40-hour week for all non-teaching school employees, a representative of the State Department of Education has been invited to explain the law to the Board of Education.

Robert L. Drury, who also is legal counsel for the Ohio School Boards Association and the Ohio Education Association, will attend the meeting Oct. 21, Supt. Paul H. Blair advised the board Monday night.

Blair said he invited Drury because he wants the law clarified before reaching a decision and making any recommendation to the board.

The gist of the difference of opinion is whether the law applies to present custodians, clerks and bus drivers or only to those hired after Sept. 16, the effective date of the new law.

The board was told by Harold West, a representative of the custodial staff, that a court fight may result if the board decides the law covers only new employees.

Drury has maintained the law affects only new employees while the Ohio Association of Public School Employees, an organization of non-certificated personnel, argues the law applies to all custodians, clerks and bus drivers.

Custodians now work 44 hours weekly, but would receive four hours overtime or compensatory time off under their interpretation of the law.

The lowest hourly rate paid custodians is about $1.62 but they receive $2 for the first hour of overtime and $1.85 for each hour after that.

Relaying a discussion held at the meeting Sept. 16, West said he was told by Steve Lewis, executive secretary of the OAPSE, the law has been misinterpreted by Drury.

West said what it amounts to is a matter of scheduling so the buildings can be maintained with little additional help and still not go over the 40-hour limit.

"We want the benefits of the law," he declared.

James Lowe, president, said it seemed ridiculous to him that the law would encompass one employee and not another.

"The board's position is to go with the law to the letter," he told West. "I think we're all a little confused. I hope you don't think this is a matter of opposition. We merely want clarification."

Other board members also said they were puzzled by the interpretation of the law and the divergence of opinion.

Instruction Given Newell Delegate

Instructions were given the delegate to the Grand Lodge meeting this week in Charleston when Clark Odd Fellows Lodge 447 met Monday night in the Newell IOOF Hall.

Ernie Phillips, delegate, will attend the state meeting, accompanied by two lodge members and several from Rebekah Lodge 74. The session ends Saturday night.

A committee which purchased service badges announced the awards will be presented at a joint dinner meeting with the Rebekahs Oct. 29 in the hall.

Petitions of membership were read by the secretary, Bill Johnson, past noble grand, presided. Tom Dover of Pennova Lodge 880 of East Liverpool spoke on benefits of the order.

Carl Riser will be chairman of the lunch committee at the next meeting Monday night at 7:30.

Film Shown By Firemen

Melvin Whittington, a fireman and a member of the safety staff at the Crucible Steel Co. in Midland, showed a film on mouth-to-mouth resuscitation at an open house at the Newell fire station Monday evening, kicking off the annual observance of Fire Prevention Week.

The respiration procedures were demonstrated on a dummy and visitors were invited to try their skill.

Chief Earl Flesch spoke on prevention of fire, and Arch Coen gave a demonstration of a resuscitator. Fire equipment was displayed and explained by Floyd Wilson and Gene Lytton.

Flesch said the department's annual drive for operating funds has begun and requested that anyone in doubt as to the solicitor should ask to see his badge or identification card. Persons in rural areas may leave their donations at the fire station or at the post office.

The public may visit the fire hall any night this week, although the program will not be repeated.

The program received such a good response that the department decided to make it an annual event, Flesch said.

Schools In East End Inspected By Firemen

Schools in East End were inspected Monday by city firemen as a part of Fire Prevention Week observance. The inspections will continue through this week.

Firemen have set up a public display in the Hoffrichter Building on the Diamond.

Free material will be presented all who visit the showroom. Old and new equipment, and fire prevention materials are exhibited.

The department also pointed out all stations in the city are open for inspection by the public. Tours can be made of Central Station also.

Several of the men will speak to various organizations this week.

2 Future Events Set For Beef Committee

LISBON — Events in March and June were set when the Columbiana-Mahoning Beef Committee met Monday evening at the Farmers National Bank in Salem. Richard Cope of Leetonia R. D. 1, chairman, presided.

The winter beef producers meeting was set for March 4 at 7 p.m. at the Willow Grove Grange Hall and the summer twilight meeting tentatively for the first week in June, according to Don Myers, county extension agent in agriculture.

Look at the back of a carpet?

What for?

Even though the back doesn't show, don't think it doesn't count.

Without it, all you've got is a big, beautiful piece of fabric. Not a carpet.

For a carpet to serve as a carpet, to get walked on, pounded, moved on, just plain lived on, it takes a good strong back.

It keeps a carpet from wrinkling or wiggling around. From stretching after its been properly installed. Keeps it from wearing unevenly. Keeps a carpet firm and resilient through the years.

Lees designed a special back-stretching machine to give you the finest carpet backing you can buy.

So the best thing to look for is the name Lees. Lees only put their name on a carpet when they're sure it's top quality front and back.

If you are about to buy a carpet, we urge you to come in and inspect this fine Lees carpet.

Dinner Event Held

Pastor, Wife Honored By Ministerial Group

John N. Mostoller, minister of the First Church of Christ, and his wife were honored at a dinner Monday afternoon in the social rooms of the St. John's Evangelical Lutheran Church.

The event preceded the regular business meeting of the East Liverpool Ministerial Association, of which Mostoller is a past president.

Mostoller, minister of the local church for almost seven years, will assume new duties Oct. 27 at the First Christian Church at Cameron, W. Va.

About 29 attended, including ministers of the Newell and Chester associations and their wives.

Mostoller spoke on "Is Anybody Listening?" He told of the primary job of ministers "to preach the word of God and listen to the cry of the human heart." "Ministers," he said, "should learn to speak out of real experiences."

The Rev. Alfred Rodenhause, pastor of First Baptist Church and president of the association, presented Mostoller a gift on behalf of the group. Mrs. Rodenhause gave Mrs. Mostoller a corsage.

The Rev. Charles Haddock, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church in Newell, spoke briefly on behalf of the Newell Ministerial Association.

2 Union Thanksgiving Rites Set By Wellsville Ministers

Plans for two union Thanksgiving services were outlined by the Wellsville Ministerial Association Monday in a meeting at the Central Federal Savings & Loan Association.

A rural service will be held Wednesday, Nov. 27, at 8 p. m. at the Bethel United Presbyterian Church.

The Rev. James McColam of the Yellow Creek and Oak Ridge United Presbyterian Churches will be guest speaker. The Rev. William Harper is the host pastor.

A city service will be held Thanksgiving day at 10 a. m. at the Riverside United Presbyterian Church. Robert Andrews, minister of the First Christian Church, will be guest speaker. The Rev. James Sanko is host pastor.

The offerings will go to the City Hospital chaplaincy fund and the CROP program of Church World Service.

It was reported the Rev. Arden Beck of Wellsville has been elected chairman of the hospital chaplaincy committee. The service now has been extended to many other groups other than the Protestant congregations that set up the program.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: Three months ago I started to date a 33-year - old attorney. I am 25. He never has been married and lives with his widowed mother. He told me last night that I'm the type of girl he would like to marry—and added, "provided you can pass the test."

I asked him what test, and these are the questions he asked: "Are you neat about the way you squeeze toothpaste out of tube? Do you roll it up properly? Do you pin your hair up at night and cream your face?" (He can't tolerate this.) "How often do you change bed linen?" (He insists on fresh linen every night.)

I was shocked at these questions and treated them as a joke. But he was dead serious. Now I ask you, Ann Landers, in the absence of other peculiarities, does this man sound like a good prospect for marriage? What would you do?—JASMINE.

Dear Jasmine: I'd let his mother have him for another 33 years.

Jilted Jill

Dear Ann: Is this girl doing the right thing or not? On her third or fourth date she became intimate with this boy and now she is pregnant. She is a 20-year-old nurse who should have known better.

The young man says he is sorry he got involved and he wants nothing more to do with her. The girl is planning to file a paternity suit and insists on keeping the baby against all the advice from every side.

I say she should go to a home for unwed mothers, have the baby and put it up for adoption. If she does this nobody will be hurt. She will not shame her family or his, and the young man will not be stuck for 21 years of support money. Also, the baby will get a decent break instead of being known as an illegitimate child.

A lot is riding on your answer, so think it through carefully.—INTERESTED PARTY.

Dear Party: The girl did not ask me for advice so I won't attempt to give her any. Obviously she has made her decision and it's one which should be made by the girl herself.

It's a little late for that sterling young fellow to decide he "wants nothing more to do with her." There are laws for hit-and-run Romeos—as he is about to find out.

Penny Pincher

Dear Ann: I'm a woman in my early 50s who married for the second time about six months ago. I'm having real trouble with this man and I need your help.

Horace courted me for almost two years and was so charming and pleasant he had me completely fooled. I was going with two other very fine men at the same time and could have married either of them.

One week after Horace and I were man and wife he told me I had to show him a receipt for every item I bought, no matter how small. He was annoyed because I had spent $3.70 in the five-and-dime on shelf paper, cup hooks, drawer lining and odds and ends a person needs to set up a new place.

I find this humiliating since I've never had to account for money before. I have a small income but we decided before marriage to pool everything and that he would handle the money. Now I have to beg him for a dollar and I hate it.

Please tell me what to do.—EMPTY PURSE.

Dear Empty: Every woman should have some money to spend as she pleases—no questions asked—if her husband is employed. You are a fool to turn over your income to your husband and then beg him for a dollar.

The two of you should go to a clergyman and talk this problem out. You need the help of a third party.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

Dear Heloise: I remove decals and transfers by cutting a piece of paper towel a little larger than the decal (or transfer), saturating it with vinegar and placing it over the decal. The vinegar will make the paper towel adhere to the surface.

Leave this on for a few hours. One will have to re-saturate the towel every 15 or 20 minutes, according to the type of decal or what it is adhered to.

Remove the vinegar paper and just peel the decal off. One might have to scrape around the edges with their fingernail to get it started. This works not only on cabinets but is just great for getting off those stubborn, sticky stickers on your automobile windshield!

CAROL HARRIS.

DEAR HELOISE: I use our car brush (which attaches to our garden hose) to wash my windows and screens. It sure saves lots of time, washes the residue off thoroughly and makes a quick job of it. Try it!

DEAR HELOISE: I use runny jellies and jams to baste my roast chicken, turkey and baked hams. It certainly is different and there is no waste at all. Really perks up the fowl.

P. TAKARA.

DEAR HELOISE: Why don't they put thick catsup and thicker salad dressings in large-mouthed bottles so that we wifes can take a spoon and dip in the bottle and remove just so much.

MRS. S.M.C.

DEAR HELOISE: Just how does one keep the little space on top of our kitchen cabinets clean? It's so high that I seldom see it. Recently I got on a cleaning jag and what a mess I found.

FRANATIC.

DEAR "DON'T BE": Never leave this shelf uncovered. Whether your cabinets are wooden or metal.

Waxed paper is cheap! Once the shelf is clean, tear off a long sheet or two of the wax paper and after "sprinkling" your cabinet with a bit of water so the paper will hold down and not slip or wetting the paper slightly, cover the shelf quickly.

I then sprinkle a few more drops of water and add a second sheet of wax paper so that it will stick and the next time I am in that fanatical mood all I have to do is remove the top paper. One can also use the synthetic bags which come from the dry cleaners. They are free and adhere beautifully.

Sure gets dirty near the ceiling, oh?

Don't get upset. Join our coffee klatch. Save your energy for other things.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: One of your top suggestions of the year was to put old blankets under the foam rubber cushions on our sofas.

I had a Chesterfield chair that was driving me crazy. This had been recovered with a foam rubber cushion. It never stayed in place. I was forever moving it, which took time and was awkward. . . . Then the "top" suggestion came in about putting an old blanket under it, and it has been under the cushion ever since. It never slides any more.

MABEL HERRON.

DEAR HELOISE: In my work, I must have clean and nice looking hands. After umpteen tries with different products, even scouring powder, which has bleach, I finally tried your clear vinegar. . . .

I poured pure vinegar on a wash cloth and rubbed my hands several times and then took the wash cloth and wiped them off good to see what I could accomplish, and do you know what?

All the stains came off! May I thank you for telling us about vinegar? I have used it and found it successful. After using the vinegar, I just wash my hands with soap and water and rinse them thoroughly.

Potters Jump Notch To 7th; Sandusky Leads Poll

By FRITZ HOWELL
Associated Press Sports Writer
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The turnover was terrific today in The Associated Press weekly high school football poll as Sandusky's high-scoring Blue Streaks climbed over Akron Garfield and Niles McKinley and grabbed the top spot.

Coach Earle Bruce's Blue Streaks made it with a 52-6 rout of Lorain, piling up 471 yards rushing and running their five-game scoring total to 228-28.

Niles McKinley's 1961 champions, despite a rousing 54-6 verdict over Steubenville Central Catholic—running the Red Dragon unbeaten string to 42—skidded from the lead into second place.

Many-times champion Massillon, fighting its way back to the heights after losing 13-6 to Akron Garfield in the opener, swamped Steubenville's Big Red 52-0 and eased into third place, only four poll points behind Niles. Akron Garfield, tied 14-14 by Barborton's Magics, slipped from second to sixth.

Springfield South's Wildcats, fifth last week, jumped a notch with a 26-0 victory over Middletown. Warren Harding, victimized 20-12 by Akron South, and Middletown fell out of the Top Ten, and Cleveland St. Ignatius and Akron South, each with a clean record, moved in. East Liverpool and

Niles Slips To 2nd; Lisbon 18th

Dayton Roth climbed to seventh and eighth.

A total of 49 sports editors, 32 from newspapers and 17 from radio-television stations, voted this week in the poll—each selecting 10 top teams who were then rated on a 10-9-8-etc. basis to determine the total poll points.

From around and about: Perfect records aren't enough to earn a spot in the Top Ten. Boasting 5-0 records, but listed among the also-rans, are such teams as Lisbon, Mineral Ridge, Canton South, Columbus Central, Columbus East, Columbus South, Columbus Whetstone, Groveport, Mount Vernon, Bucyrus, Wilmington, Fremont St. Joseph, Waverly, Cleveland St. Joseph, Fredericktown and The Plains. Many others have 4-0 marks.

Don White, Fredericktown's snappy quarterback, must be a magician. In the 32-6 victory over Crestline he faked a handoff to a halfback and then scored from the five-yard line—only to find the officials had blown the ball dead as Crestline smothered the decoy. There was consternation as the arbiters peeled the players off the pile and found no ball—but undismayed Don just grinned and tossed a touchdown pass to Chuck Gregg on the next play.

Massillon plays Canton McKinley Friday in the first of two games with the Bulldogs this season. The doubleheader—the next one's at Canton Nov. 9 — was caused by McKinley's 1962 suspension.

Jim Griest of Beavercreek has been a second-stringer all season. But he was shoved into Friday's game against Franklin and rushed for 176 yards and three touchdowns in a 56-0 rout.

Tiny Tim Stokes (140 pounds and 5-foot-6) gained 128 yards in 10 carries and scored twice for Sandusky against Lorain. And teammate Bill Yeager romped for 123 yards and two scores. In the same game Lorain's Ken Kohlmyer, a 5-8 end, caught eight passes for 110 yards. Ken is quite a kid—pole vaults 11-8, pitches for the baseball team, plays golf in the 70s, is a standout basketball guard—and is playing his first football.

Liberty Union, down in Fairfield County, is in the 5-0 list, and three coaches are responsible. Roger Chaney, boss of the 1962 team, took a Florida job just as practice started. Bob Straight moved up from Wellston, staged a week of workouts, and returned home because he couldn't find a place to live. Joe Michaels, once at Fredericktown, got a hurry-up call, came up from West Virginia and has been at the helm since.

Here's How Writers Voted Ohio Elevens

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — How 49 sports editors, 32 from newspapers and 17 from radio-TV stations, rate Ohio's high school football teams today in the weekly Associated Press poll.

Shown are the first-place votes in parentheses, the poll points on a 10-9-8-etc. basis and the won-lost-tied records of the leaders:

rans in recent years, place their best-in-the-nation ranking on the line against old foe Texas.

A victory would put the Sooners in good shape for a shot at the national title. The rest of the schedule is against Big Eight opposition, against whom Oklahoma has a 98-8-3 record under Coach Bud Wilkinson.

Texas, however, may have something to say about that. The Longhorns, unbeaten in three games and gunning for the national title they forfeited when tied by Rice last season, have taken over the No. 2 spot in the latest Associated Press poll and have a recent history of success against their favorite foe. The Longhorns have won the last five games in the old series.

Oklahoma was idle last week, after scoring victories over Clemson and defending national champion Southern California, but held on to the top spot in the poll without trouble, polling 40 first place votes in a total of 54 ballots cast by the AP's special selection board.

Texas, third a week ago, vaulted over Alabama and into the runner-up spot on the strength of a 34-7 romp over Oklahoma State. Alabama also won its third straight, beating Vanderbilt 21-6.

There were a number of other changes in the select list, with only No. 18 Mississippi staying in the same spot. Northwestern and Georgia Tech, fifth and seventh a week ago, dropped from the list and were replaced by Ohio State and Penn State.

The Top Ten, with first place votes in parentheses, and total points on the 10-9-8-etc. basis:

Laughlin, Bowersock Win Golf Event

W. R. Laughlin and Bob Bowersock fashioned a 62 to win the best ball medal play event Sunday at the East Liverpool Country Club.

The runnerup team of Don Burbick and J. T. Hall finished with a 64.

Everson Hall recorded 30 to take honors in a selective nine-hole match Saturday while Bill Kelly, Don Schreckengost and Don E. Smith tied at 31 each.

Koufax Leads DiPasquale, Olmstead, Hall Top Performers

NEW YORK (AP)—Seven National Leaguers, including World Series star Sandy Koufax, and three American League players were named today to the Associated Press Major League All-Star baseball team for 1963.

Koufax, who posted a 25-5 season record and collected two victories in the Dodgers' sweep of the New York Yankees, was the only member of the world champions selected unanimously in a vote of 71 baseball writers.

Koufax topped the balloting with 68 votes. The other National Leaguers selected were first baseman Bill White, shortstop Dick Groat and third baseman Ken Boyer, all of the St. Louis Cardinals; outfielders Willie Mays of San Francisco and Hank Aaron of Milwaukee, and right-handed pitcher Juan Marichal of San Francisco.

Outfielder Al Kaline of Detroit and second baseman Bobby Richardson and catcher Elton Howard of the Yankees represented the American League on the No. 1 team.

Palmer Boosts Golf Jackpot To $127,555

DUNEDIN, Fla. (AP) — Arnold Palmer's victory in the White Marsh Open last weekend boosted his earnings in official PGA golf tournaments to a whopping $127,555.

PGA headquarters reported Monday that Palmer won seven of the 19 tournaments in which he competed, and was in the first five finishers 10 times.

Jack Nicklaus continues in the runner-up spot with $85,960 in winning out of 23 tournaments, four of which he won.

Wellsville Defeats Dixonville Eleven

Steve Reitz raced for three touchdowns to lead the Wellsville Browns past the Dixonville Vikings, 20-6, Sunday at Nicholson Stadium.

Reed added the extra points for Wellsville.

Ken Morris scored Dixonville's lone touchdown. The Vikings are now 3-1 and meet Chester Sunday at the Dixonville field.

Syracuse football coach Ben Schwartzwalder started the current football season with a 17-year record of 111 victories, 49 losses and two ties.

Bill Hall, East Liverpool's speedy end, and backs Earl Olmstead and John DiPasquale were named the outstanding players in the Wellsville game by the Potter coaching staff.

Head coach Bob Hedmond said, Hall was selected the top lineman "because of his good downfield blocking, his work on defense and for catching a touchdown pass."

Olmstead, a halfback, was named the back-of-the-week for the second straight game. He picked up 137 yards rushing in the Wellsville contest and scored a touchdown. DiPasquale scored two touchdowns against the Tigers.

Defeat Of Yanks Just One Of Those Things

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Despite their defeat in the World Series in an unprecedented four-game sweep by the Los Angeles Dodgers, the image of the New York Yankees as lords of major league baseball has not been materially damaged.

While giving full credit to the Dodgers and the great pitching of Sandy Koufax, Johnny Podres and Don Drysdale, comment in various newspapers generally could be summed up:

The defeat of the Yankees was just one of those things.

Walt Aiston, manager of the victorious Dodgers, put it this way: "When you're winning everything goes right. We didn't gamble any more this year than last. But we were luckier."

Jim Ogle of the Newark, N.J. Star-Ledger, commented: "The decline and fall of the Yankees will last until next April 14 and then they'll start to prove this was all a mistake, not counting the pitchers, O'Malley (Dodger owner) would be very happy to trade man-for-man. This is not a Yankee team that's cracking up

This is a young club and the pitching is getting better."

"The Yankees have won so many World Series they need not begrudge this one to a former neighbor," the New York Times commented editorially.

The Cleveland Plain-Dealer, in an editorial, asserted the "Dodgers have done the baseball world a favor in beating the Yankees and taking over as world champions."

Paul Zimmerman, sports editor of the Los Angeles Times, commented that "the aura of invincibility built up around the Yankees was thoroughly shattered by the Dodgers."

An observation: In 1942 the Yankees beat the Cardinals in the first game of the World Series, then lost four straight. The Yanks and Cards met again in 1945, but this time the Yankees won in five games.

Dodgers Won't Stand Pat, Will Seek More Pitching?

By CHARLES MAHER
Associated Press Sports Writer

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Having just won the National League pennant by six games and the World Series by four, the Los Angeles Dodgers don't figure to rival the New York Stock Exchange in trading volume this winter.

"But we're not going to stand pat, either," says General Manager Buzzie Bavasi.

Curiously, the first thing Bavasi wants to import is more pitching. The Dodger pitching staff had an earned-run average of 2.85, the best in the major leagues this year and the best in the National League in 19 years.

Bavasi said he'd like another right-handed starting pitcher and another left-handed relief pitcher.

There's a good chance the Dodger roster will change this month. The first eight teams in the National League are putting four players each in a pool set up to help the indigent New York Mets and Houston Colts. The Dodgers are expected to offer infielder Marv Breeding, outfielder Lee Walls, relief pitcher Ken Rowe and first baseman Bill Haas. Haas was in the Dodgers' farm system all season but counted against their 25-man roster under the new first-year player rule.

The Dodgers could give up all four of the "pool players" or none depending on how many they want to part with and how many the Colts and Mets want to buy.

There had been speculation relief pitcher Larry Sherry would be placed in the pool. But the guess now is that the Dodgers think they could make a better deal in a trade.

Bill Skowron also looked like a trade prospect before the World Series. But he hit .385 in the Series and Bavasi said he was impressed.

Utility infielder Dick Tracewski also strengthened his position in the World Series, playing all four games at second base. The only reservation about Tracewski is that he has been unable to hit good right-handed pitching. The Dodgers may try to trade for a left-handed hitting second baseman who could alternate with Tracewski.

Bavasi said the Dodgers should be a contender in the National League "for as far ahead as we can see."

"But I don't think there's much chance any club is going to set up a dynasty in this league," he said. "We don't even know we're going to win next year."

Local Drivers Finish Well In Sportscar Rally

East Liverpool drivers fared well in the 86-mile Buckeye sportscar rally held Sunday in the East Liverpool area.

John Boch and Paul Montgomery of East Liverpool, driving a Cobra, finished in first place followed by Ted and Verne Boughton of Coraopolis, Pa., driving a TR-3. Barbara and Jim Porter of East Liverpool driving a Porsche took third place.

Eighteen cars were entered in the rally with eight from East Liverpool and ten from the Pittsburgh area.

Sportsmen Purchase Wildlife Winter Grain

Purchase of corn and alfalfa for winter feeding of wild life at the Chester - Newell Farmers and Sportsmen's Club farm was authorized at a meeting of the club Monday night at the Gas Valley farm.

Members inspected the 7½ acres of food strips planted in the spring, and reported there will be ample feed despite the dry weather.

Nine attended. Officers will be elected Nov. 4 at the City Hall at Chester. Carl Graham, president, said.

OFF THE RECORD

How Can I?
By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. How should woolen materials be pressed?
A. Press them on the wrong side. Use a damp cloth between the iron and material. The iron should be moderately hot, and should be applied until the cloth is quite dry.

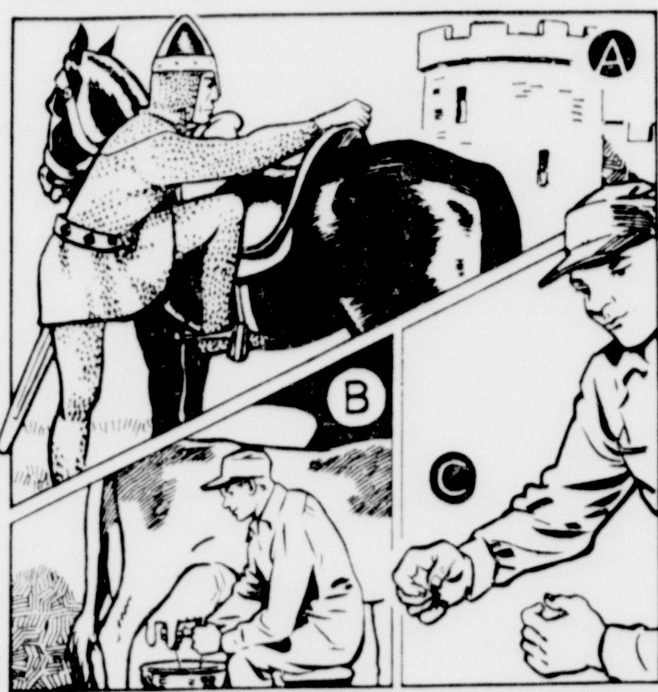

Q. How can I whiten the yellowed bone handles of my cutlery?
A. You can whiten these considerably if you'll rub them with a cloth wet with peroxide of hydrogen. Rinse in clear water, and dry with a soft cloth.

Q. What is the best way to wash corduroy?
A. Use lukewarm water and suds, lifting the garment up and down in the water. Rub badly soiled parts with a soft brush. Rinse in clear water, and hang up without squeezing or wringing out the water. Shake occasionally while drying. When dry, raise will then come apart quite easily.

Q. How can I care for slate and terrazzo floors?
A. Dust with a soft brush or vacuum cleaner, and wash with warm suds. Rinse and wipe them dry. If your floor is new, wait at least a week before washing it to allow the cement to set. Spills can be wiped up with a damp cloth. A wax finish (any type) can be used to make slate floors dark and glossy. Terrazzo floors should not be waxed unless they are "sealed." If sealed, they can be waxed if desired.

Q. Is there any easy way to separate these packages strips of bacon that are so tightly pressed together?
A. To help break up this strip-to-strip adhesive, roll the package gently between your hands, first one way and then the other, before opening it. The bacon strips ly while drying. When dry, raise will then come apart quite easily.

Junior Editors Quiz on

ANSWER: Horses, like many other animals, are creatures of habit, and like to have things done the same way each time. They have been trained to understand that when you approach from the left side you may mount them; but they might be startled if you tried to mount from the right side. Using the left side is said to have come from the old days when riders, such as the knight in chain armor which we show, had to mount a horse with a long sword hanging by his left side. If he had mounted from the right the weight of both left leg and sword would have to be thrown over the horse's back, making it a clumsy operation.

Cows these days are by no means all milked from the right side. Most cows are milked by machine, in which case it doesn't matter which side you use. In the days of hand milking, however, most milking was from the right side because most people are right handed. It is more natural for a right-handed person to reach under the milk bag with the right hand, as our pictures (B) and (C) show.

FOR YOU TO DO: Imagine there's some enemy standing in front of you which you have to knock out fast. Take a swat at him through the air. Which hand did you use? Chances are, the right. This shows how a right-handed person uses his right for the jobs further away.

Billy Crowley Jr. of Pasco, Wash., wins today's grand prize of a 20-volume set of World Book Encyclopedia for this question. Mail yours on a postcard to Junior Editors in care of The Review and you too may win a set.

Man From Mars Keeps The 'Machine Oiled'

"Uncle Martin," the Martian, is not really from outer space; he's from the Actors Studio. I'm talking about Ray Walston, of course, the title - role performer in the new CBS situation comedy, "My Favorite Martian."

Alan Gill

He was in town a few days ago to drum up a little enthusiasm for his series among us earth-bound New Yorkers. And it was immediately—and disappointingly—apparent, as he perched on a hard-back chair, that his cranium had not been permanently fitted with retractable antennae.

THE HAIR, though, has been rinsed to an orange-blond—a departure from the gray-streaked red he wore as the Devil in "Damn Yankees."

"I don't know why I got the part," he said in his wry, Lee Tracy voice. "Maybe they thought I looked like a Martian. Anyway, I'm doing my best to look like one."

"People associate spacemen with John Glenn—blond, cropped hair, healthy complexion, trim. I trimmed down and went to beauty parlors to lighten the hair. Then I got fitted into this space suit that looks like it's made of steel. In it, I'm the specimen of health."

Walston punched his chest lightly.

"THIS GUY," he went on, "is no pixie idiot making with the ears and all that baloney. He's a sharp, sophisticated fellow."

"In one episode, 'Man on the Couch,' Uncle Martin finds out that he can breathe much more easily in the earth's atmosphere if he gets into a high place."

"He takes to sitting on top of a water tower. The firemen come and get him down and send him off to a psycho ward. This gives the Martian, with his mind-reading faculties, a chance to out-psychanalyze the psychiatrist."

"In another episode, I fall in love with a stripper, and the affair appears to get very serious for a minute. The Martian's character, you see, makes a change of pace possible each week."

"One Sunday, it's silly and idiotic—Jerry Lewis. The next week we bring on the dames."

THE SHOW, he feels, plays half to children, half to adults. And he thinks it a good omen that his daughter, Kate, 10, likes her old man as an outer-space-man.

"In her circle, it's a great feather in her cap."

Asked if he has any "fears" about the rigors and boredom of a long run, Walton said:

"Don't think I haven't thought of it. And I'm afraid of being typed forever as a character with antennae coming out of my head. People still think of me as the Devil and for three or four years after the 'Damn Yankees' run, it was hard to get good parts."

"I'll never—never!—do another musical comedy. While 'Yankees' ran, I lost out on good parts to Eli Wallach ('The Cold Wind and Warm') and Jason Robards Jr. (Hickey in 'The Iceman Cometh')."

"THE THEATER got to be a drag, beating out a performance that had to get over the pit to the first row. Working in pictures is exciting, a challenge. It never comes out the way you thought. The slightest tilt of the head or of the eyes will change the meaning entirely."

"The theater is getting up at 10 and then waiting for 8:30 that night to come along. Summer days, you go to Jones Beach. But the winters are slush, rain and snow, and you can't sit around the Lambs Club all day."

"Those Tuesdays and Fridays at the Actors Studio were God-sends."

Despite the disgruntlement that underlies much of Ray Walston's talk about the theater, the fact is that he keeps one foot in the stage door.

IN HOLLYWOOD, he helped start and now sits on the board of directors of a workshop called Theater East, which involves the talents of such actors as Peter Falk, Alan Baxter and John Astin.

Here, Walston is able to pursue his ambition to direct. Here, as he puts it, he can "keep the machine oiled."

At the moment, though, it appears he's in for a hit and a long run. And—who knows?—maybe Walston will be playing Martians for the rest of his born days.

Keep In Trim

By IDA JEAN KAIN

How Effective Are Crash Diets?

Novel, off-beat diets periodically capture the imagination of even the most cautious among the corpulent. The promise of a quick and easy way to lose 10 pounds is sweet music to the ear and hard to resist. But how effective is a "crash" diet program?

The reducing effects are Ida Jean Kain fleeting. If a quickie diet were a one-time affair, and you could reduce and be done with dieting for good and all, then a so-called "magic" diet would make sense. You could stick with it and lick your weight to a standstill. But this isn't what happens. You do not live happily slim ever after.

ALL FADDY DIETS ignore the real problem — keeping the pounds off. Letters from chronic dieters tell the story repeatedly. They write: "I've tried all kinds of diets, and I'm still fat." One overweight wrote: "My husband has begged me to stop dieting, because I just wind up fatter!"

This preoccupation with on-again-off-again dieting is keeping Americans fat! One doctor finally said to his overweight patients, "Stop making a Federal case of dieting. You do not have to go hungry, but you do have to stop overeating. Cut down on your portions and you can lose weight without 'dieting.'"

Why does it help you to cut down on portions? For one thing, by eating less you consume fewer calories. But equally important, on smaller meals you lessen your food capacity.

WHY NOT TAKE advantage of every bit of scientific knowledge that applies to weight control? You will lose weight faster by eating three moderate meals a day than you will be taking the bulk of calories in one big meal. When you regard the excess calories at any one meal as being shunted into an obligatory pathway into fat, it makes sense to stop overeating. If the grand total of calories for the day is not in excess of your requirements, you could not gain, but more of your weight would be in fatty tissue.

There is convincing evidence that such a plan leads to more fat storage in the tissues and to a higher serum cholesterol level.

Why not try eating three moderate meals a day, plus a protective snack in the late afternoon? By this plan you best meet nature's energy needs. You will enhance your vigor and lose excess weight.

Send for Eat To Build Leaness, addressing request to Ida Jean Kain, care of The Review. Please enclose long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for reply. Post card requests cannot be answered.

Wellsville GOP Women To Meet

The Wellsville Women's Republican Club will hold an open meeting Wednesday night at 7:30 at the O'Hara offices at 3rd and Main Sts. in honor of all local candidates.

Board of Education candidates also have been invited. Several guests are expected from throughout the county.
